Court Halts Redwood Bank Voting

Ousted Aides Fighting Reduction Of Directors

Ousted directors of Redwood National Bank late yesterday obtained a Marin Superior Court injunction halting an election scheduled for 5 p.m. today at the San Rafael bank.

The temporary restraining order prevents the planned stockholders' vote on reducing the number of bank directors from 11 to seven. It is based on a seven-year voting trust agreement passed Jan. 5, 1963, which gave the bank's eight trustees sole right to determine the number of directors.

On granting the order, Judge Samuel W. Gardiner declared, "Whether I agree or disagree with the plaintiffs, they are entitled to their day in court, and I am giving them that day."

Full hearing on the issue was set by Judge Gardiner for 2 p.m. on May 3.

Douglas M. Christensen, Roger J. Darrow and Sherman Leland Jr.—all ex-directors, and William G. Corrigan filed the suit seeking the temporary injunction and a permanent restraining order.

All are members of the eight-man trustee group.

Defendants are Byron W. Leydecker, bank president; Abe Blumenfeld, William R. Berglund, Robert B. Grady, Dr. John C. Siemens, all directors; W. J. Waksvik, bank secretary, and Dale E. Walter, senior vice president.

Leydecer said today the proposed election during the annual stockholders' meeting was in accord with a directive from U.S. Comptroller of the Currency James Saxon, and on the advice of the bank's attorneys, the San Francisco law firm of Chickering and Gregory.

He said the board of directors has always operated in accordance with instructions by the comptroller, and the directive supercedes the trust agreement.

Today's meeting was to (1) fix the number of directors, (2) elect them, (3) amend an article in the bank's articles of association to provide that the board of directors may increase the number of directors by not more than two, between annual meetings of shareholders, and (4) approve amendments to the stock Option Plan to conform with the Internal Revenue Act of 1964.

Court Asked For Ruling On Re-mapping

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The California Senate has asked the state courts to spell out the rules that must be followed in reapportioning the Senate to meet a federal court ruling.

An action filed in Sacramento County Superior Court yesterday is aimed at getting the State Supreme Court to settle conflicts between the U.S. Supreme Court's "one man, one vote" ruling and state constitutional provisions on the makeup of the legislature.

A three-judge federal court in Los Angeles has ordered reapportionment of the Senate, now based on geography, on the basis of population.

Senate leaders have said that in order to comply with the federal court order, any reapportionment plan will have to violate the California Constitution.

The constitution prohibits increasing the number of Senate seats, now 40 dividing any city or county in establishing districts; placing more than one senatorial district in any county or city-county; or grouping more than three counties in any one district.

A plan now awaiting Senate actions would violate each of these in order to give populous Southern California roughly the representation it is entitled to on the basis of population.

The action, filed in the name of the Senate and six individual senators, names Los Angeles attorney Phil Silver as defendant. A taxpayer's suit by Silver led to the federal court ruling that the Senate must reapportion by July 1.

The Senate seeks a declaratory judgment, or a statement by the supreme court of exactly what state constitutional provisions are still in effect in view of the U.S. Supreme Court's ruling.

FLOOD STRICKEN

Only a passenger train is able to "navigate" through high water that moved into Dubuque, Iowa, today. Flood waters from the rising Mississippi River covered a half-mile wide area of small businesses, factories and some homes. Parking meters were covered and some residents were forced to flee their homes in boats. Water is expected to rise further tomorrow and Saturday. See also story, photo page 5.

Murdered Girl's Corpse Stored In S.F. Garage

Friend's Car Traced By Tag, Blood Spots

By ROSS DAVIS

The crumpled body of murder victim Nonita Vicera, 16, found Monday after being dumped in Mount Tamalpais State Park, apparently was in her boy friend's sports car parked overnight Good Friday in a San Francisco parking garage.

Marin County sheriff's officers revealed today that the car, later found abandoned near Golden Gate Park, was checked into Masonic Memorial Temple Garage, 1101 California Street, San Francisco, shortly after noon Friday.

James M. Kurtz, garage manager, said the white 1959 Thunderbird remained there until 7 p.m. Saturday, when a young man presented the claim ticket and drove away.

TRAIL OF BLOOD

Leaving the garage, the car left a trail of blood, Kurtz said. Puzzled, he traced the blood drops to a pool of blood on the ramp near where the car had been parked.

Kurtz said he couldn't explain why the pool was on the ramp rather than the actual parking site of the car.

Kurtz said the car definitely was that owned by Virgilio Restauro, 24, because the license plate number—noted on parking tags of each customer by the garage—matched that of the recovered car.

The time element would establish murder of the Daly City high school freshman in the brief time shortly afternoon Friday, when she was seen at a Daly City bus stop en route to do Easter shopping in San Francisco.

PARKED CAR

Kurtz told the Independent-Journal at noon today the car was checked in Friday by Carl Simmons, a parking attendant. He said Simmons had the driver park it.

Kurtz said he checked the car out Saturday evening. The driver, he said, was young, "a short fellow," and "could very well be him" (Restauro).

Marin Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales said a murder complaint was filed today against Restauro, missing from his dishwasher's job and his home in San Francisco since Friday.

Bales said he had notified Cecil Poole, U.S. district attorney in San Francisco, that there is reason to believe Restauro is

ODE ON WAR

Killed Pilot Called Viet Duty 'Unreal'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Relatives of Navy Lt. (j.g.) James Patrick Shea, 24-year-old flier killed in action Tuesday in North Viet Nam, have released a letter received last month describing the war in terms of almost poetic beauty.

"To fly over enemy territory, to see anti-aircraft shells explode near you, to drop live ordnance on an actual target—these are the realities of life that seem unreal," the letter reads in part.

"The events have no connection to the real life at home, where the sound of a typewriter in an office replaces the sound of an automatic weapon in a rice paddy, where the sound of a cop's siren means another traffic ticket and not an air raid, and where the sound of a steam driven hammer means a new bridge and not another aircraft launched from a catapult . . ."

Shea, killed when his plane crashed on a flight from the USS Hancock near the village of Phu Ghia, was the son of James G. Shea, Southern Pacific Railroad public relations manager in San Francisco.

His wife is the former Mary Susan Jertson of Pacific Palisades. They were married last Oct. 10.

In his letter to her father, James J. Jertson, Shea wrote:

"I was born lucky. Susie and I have so much to live for . . ."

He closed with this:

"To think that in a few months I'll be back on terra firma — USA, to rejoin with Susie and our new addition . . . I'll see you soon."

Marines In Fight With Red Guerrillas

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Marines skirmished with Viet Cong guerrillas today in the Leathernecks' first extended ground action of the war while American and Vietnamese planes ranged over North Viet Nam on at least nine separate raids.

Eighteen Navy jets from the carriers Midway and Hancock capped the day by blasting at six Communist boats in a river estuary just east of Vinh, midway between the border and Hanoi, with cannon fire and rockets.

Pilots said the strike was highly successful.

Planes also strafed and bombed Communist targets in South Viet Nam.

During an eight-hour patrol into a valley, outside the Da Nang Air Base, the Marines tangled twice with the Communist guerrillas. One American was wounded slightly and two others collapsed with heat prostration.

Election Errors Continue Right Down To Wire; Some Can't Vote

Some voters in Novato Unified School District were refused ballots on its school finance issues.

Two election judges spent Tuesday night in the Tamalpais Valley School because they could not lock it after election.

The slow count in the county-wide schools election still came up with wrong figures, which the county schools office corrected today.

These were the latest reports in what is becoming known as Marin's "most fouled-up" election.

None of the vote count errors affected the outcome of the contest involved, however.

The Novato foul-up was at Pacheco School. When the first voter from Marin Golf and Country Club Estates arrived there Tuesday morning, election officials refused to give them ballots on the three school finance issues, saying they were permitted only to vote on Novato Fire District candidates.

Supt. Ralph Giovanniello of the dying San Jose School District, which includes Pacheco School, straightened out the mistake—but not until after several had lost their chance to vote on the bonds and loan. Giovanniello said the election clerks had been cautioned that Hamilton Air Force Base residents could not vote on the fire board candidates, because the base is outside the district. Somehow, they got the instructions twisted.

Figures on the Novato bond issues were corrected by the county schools office today. All passed handily. Corrected vote totals were announced as follows:

Assumption by the new Novato Unified School District of $567,000 indebtedness of the former San Jose district and $2,698,000 indebtedness of the former Novato district: Yes, 1,882; no, 509.

Authority to issue up to $3,840,000 in bonds for the new district: Yes, 1,786; no, 558.

Authority to borrow up to $7,680,000 from the state to supplement the bond issues: Yes, 1,755; no, 565.

The women who spent the night in the polling place in Tamalpais Valley were Mrs. Eva Frazier, inspector, and Mrs. Maude Cochran.

They closed the polls at 7 p.m., completed their count at 2 a.m. Then they found they had no key to lock the school house.

The third judge, Mrs. Harold Stockstad, was worried about her children and went home. Mrs. Frazier and Mrs. Cochran remained until 7:15 a.m. yesterday when William Mancebo, the janitor, arrived at the school.

Closest election race turned out not to be quite so close when the count was done over.

That was in San Anselmo School District, where the first announcement showed a $700,000 bond issue passing by one vote. School officials were suspicious that there was a mistake in late returns from a polling place at the Goslinger Garage in Sleepy Hollow and counted the ballots over.

The second count showed 2,398 "yes" votes to 1,165 "no"—or a 68-vote edge above the two-thirds required for passage, instead of one vote.

In the Marin Junior College District voting, corrected figures showed 18,387 for Kent O. Seymour and 18,283 for Robert E. Oliver. The two candidates, both incumbents, were unopposed.

A corrected count of the vote for Mrs. Edith Kanoff, unopposed candidate for county board of education from Trustee Area 1, showed 1,887 votes.

Peking Spurns Non-Aligned Nations' Truce Talk Plea

TOKYO (UPI) — Communist China today rejected an appeal from 17 non-aligned nations for unconditional peace talks on Viet Nam. Peking said the proposal was "a deliberate attempt to absolve U.S. imperialism, the arch criminal, from its crime."

"Frankly speaking, the 17-nation appeal completely caters to the interests of U.S. imperialism and has become a shield in the hands of the Johnson administration to ward off world-wide condemnation of and opposition to the U.S. crimes of aggression," the Chinese statement said.

North Viet Nam rejected the peace proposal two days ago in somewhat milder terms.

A Chinese statement yesterday charged that the United States has "gradually turned South Viet Nam into its colony and military base and clamped a most brutal fascist rule on the region."

Today's Chinese statement appeared to slam the door on a Soviet proposal for a reconvening of the 1954 Geneva conference to discuss the neutrality of Cambodia, South Viet Nam's next door neighbor.

Human Torch Try Is Foiled

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A Buddhist nun tried to commit suicide by fire late today in the compound of Saigon's biggest Buddhist institute, but monks intervened.

Informants at the institute said the nun, Nu Hue Thien, 25, was spotted as she knelt at a flagpole with a match after pouring gasoline on her clothing. The monks prevented her from lighting the match and returned her to her pagoda home.

She had written a letter to U.N. Secretary-General U Thant decrying the war in Viet Nam and saying she planned to burn herself for peace.

TOKYO (AP) — Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap, North Viet Nam's defense minister and the architect of the French defeat in Indochina, is conferring in Peking with Red Chinese officials.

Phones Restored

Full service was restored yesterday to 500 phones in Fairfax, Woodacre, San Geronimo and Forest Knolls which were blanked out Tuesday when a post hole digging machine severed a Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. cable behind the Fairfax Theater.

Philippine Students Protest Lodge Visit

MANILA (AP) — A small group of Philippine students waving anti-American banners picketed the U.S. Embassy tonight in protest against the visit of Henry Caobt Lodge, President Johnson's special envoy.

The student group numbered about 20. They carried such signs as "get out of Viet Nam." Lodge arrived yesterday for consultations on Viet Nam with Philippine leaders. He leaves Friday for Formosa.

Intrusion Claimed

Tommy Sands, Nancy Sinatra Split

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Singer Tommy Sands and Frank Sinatra's daughter, Nancy, plan to seek a divorce after more than four years of marriage.

In a joint statement yesterday, the couple said:

"We have agreed to an amicable divorce because we have certain irreconcilable differences."

Nancy

Sands, 27, and his 25-year-old wife were married Dec. 11, 1960, in Las Vegas, where they met 10 months earlier. They have no children.

A spokesman for the couple said Mrs. Sands would file for divorce in Los Angeles in the near future, charging Sands with mental cruelty.

Sinatra, whose daughter was the apple of his eye and the "Nancy" of his famous song of the same name, was unavailable for comment. He has two other children—Frank Jr., and Tina — by his first wife, also named Nancy.

U.S. Beefs Up Aid For South Viets, McNamara Reveals

More Money, Men Slated For Expanded Defenses

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States is moving swiftly to beef up its military aid to South Viet Nam to offset increased North Vietnamese infiltration and a buildup of Red Viet Cong rebels.

Officials said today that the United States would support the planned increase of up to 160,000 men in South Viet Nam's 600,000-man military establishment.

They indicated that several thousand U.S. officers and men would be sent into the area within the next month or two to help with supply and training problems and serve as "advisers" and supporters for the expanded South Vietnamese forces.

In addition, officials said, the United States plans further expansion of the American-held perimeter around the vital port and airfield at Da Nang. The Da Nang base is considered a logical staging area if and when additional U.S. combat forces are introduced to meet the growing peril in the north central area of South Viet Nam.

Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara disclosed yesterday that U.S. military aid supplied directly to South Viet Nam for the fiscal year ending June 30 could amount to about $330 million, instead of the planned $207 million. Added to the economic aid budget of $300 million, this brings U.S. aid to Viet Nam above the $1.7 million per day mark.

In addition, the struggle is costing the United States untold millions to pay the 31,000 Americans already in the struggle plus the cost of operating carrier air strikes and other assaults on the Communists in North as well as South Viet Nam.

The administration gave no signs of being impressed by mounting demands at home and abroad for an end to the U.S. attacks on North Viet Nam. And officials shrugged off threats from Red China and Russia. These stopped short, however, of pledging direct intervention.

The fast-developing situation in Southeast Asia prompted a flurry of discussion in the Senate. Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, Mont., said the Russian suggestion of a reconvened Geneva conference on Camobdian neutrality is "worthy of the most serious consideration" and might lead to peace in Viet Nam.

"If the desire for a bona fide peace takes precedence over 'face' on all sides, the convening of a conference might be accomplished by a cease-fire and stand-fast throughout Viet Nam — North and South," Mansfield said.

Cal Smut Controversy Ousts Four Students

BERKELEY (AP) — Public use of an obscene four-letter word has resulted in the dismissal of one student and the suspension of three others from the Berkeley campus of the University of California.

Arthur Goldberg, 23, a graduate student in education from Los Angeles, was dismissed for organizing rallies last month during which he used the word over a microphone on the campus.

The action was announced yesterday by Acting Chancellor Martin Meyerson on recommendation of a five-man faculty committee.

Suspended until the fall semester were Michael L. Klein, 25, an English graduate student from Minneapolis, Minn., and Nicholas Vzegintzov, 25, a business administration graduate student from England (address unknown).

Klein was reported to have read passages containing the word from Lady Chatterly's Lover, the novel, in a police station. Vzegintzov reportedly led a "spell yell"—spelling out the word and shouting it afterward.

David A. Bills, 19, a freshman from Belvedere, was cited for having been seated at a table, on campus, on which was displayed a sign with the word in foot-high letters. He was suspended for the semester.

After the action was announced, the campus was abuzz with talk and opinions appeared split.

Only Leftists Bad For Nation —Parkinson

Dr. Gaylord Parkinson of San Diego made the comment yesterday at a new conference following a meeting of the GOP State Central Committee Executive Committee.

"To equate the far right with the far left is to ignore the facts of history," he contended.

The doctor pointed to disagreement among GOP factions as healthy signs. "That means we are alive."

The committee decided to withhold action on a resolution criticizing the University of California student Free Speech Movement.

Attempt Launched To Upset Proposition

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Legislation aimed at reversing Prop. 14, the housing initiative passed by voters last November, has been introduced in the Assembly by Assemblyman William F. Stanton, D-San Jose.

The constitutional amendment authorizing the state to pass laws aimed at prohibiting racial discrimination in housing will be co-authored by Assemblymen Willie Brown and John Burton, both San Francisco Democrats, and Mervyn Dymally, D - Los Angeles, Stanton said.

Jobless Insurance Wage Reports Due

Deadline for filing California unemployment insurance wage reports and contribution returns for the first quarter of the year is April 30, Charles J. Brady, Marin auditor for the State Department of Employment, reminded today.

Brady warned that penalty and interest will be charged if the report is filed after the deadline.

'Flying Bathtub' Faces Space Ferry Testing

HAWTHORNE (AP)—A bathtub-shaped space-to-ground ferry craft called the M2 will be delivered to the National Aeronautics and Space Administratio nresearch center at Edwards Air Force Base in June, Northrop Corp. said yesterday.

The triangular, wingless vehicle is similar to a NASA-built plywood craft previously towed aloft at Edwards. The M2 has an aluminum skin and is designed to be dropped from high altitudes .

A second version of the M2 is scheduled to be delivered in January. Both are being built by Northrop under a $1.8 million contract.

The vehicles are forerunners of shuttlecraft that will supply manned satellites. Eventually both are to be equipped with rocket engines.

Rights Blunder Earns Retrial On Strangling

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Two men convicted of strangling a Los Angeles man for 60 cents and his car won today a 4-2 State Supreme Court reversal of their conviction and a new trial on grounds they were not properly advised of their rights when arrested.

Oliver Stanley Williams, sentenced to the gas chamber, and William R. Lilliock, given life, should have been told of their right to remain silent and to have counsel, the majority opinion said.

The court remanded the case to the lower court for a new trial over the strangulation of Robert Kretchman in a motel Oct. 28, 1962.

The decision was another in the growing chapter of reversals and filings stemming from the January decision in favor of Robert B. Dorado, a San Quentin convicted of killing another convict. The Dorado case is under appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court. Atty. Gen. Thomas C. Lynch contends that it goes beyond the scope of similar cases already ruled upon.

The two men convicted for the Kretchman strangling were arrested at Needles in Kretchman's car. Police said their fingerprints were found in the motel room.

In a dissent, Justice B. Rey Schauer said "even assuming the error declared by the majority, I find no miscarriage of justice."

The majority opinion of Justice Paul Peek noted:

"There can be no assertion that defendants waived their rights to remain silent and to legal counsel since failure of the officers to inform them of their rights and the total lack of any other evidence in this regard precludes any finding of waiver of those rights."

To add to the Colonial atmosphere, residents of Williamsburg hide their television antennas in trees, hang wet laundry on camouflaged clotheslines and try to keep their cars off the main street.

'2 Ready To Kill' In Burglary Plot

Two San Francisco policemen were reported in a Marin contractor's grand jury testimony, made public late yesterday, as ready to kill their ex-convict accomplices in the Sally Stanford safe burglary.

A 127-page transcript of the grand jury's investigation into the burglary was filed in San Francisco Superior Court. Its highlights, as expected, were in the testimony of Robert Worthington of Point Reyes Station. It was Worthington whose tip to Donald E. Midyett, Marin County district attorney's investigator, led to capture of the two policemen and three ex-convicts on the property of Mrs. Marsha Owen (better known as Sally Stanford) on April 6.

Worthington related that Patrolman Salvatore Polani of San Francisco police told him that his fellow officer in the burglary plot "had a hair trigger Magnum (gun) and he would use it." The fellow officer allegedly was Patrolman Patrick Buckman.

Worthington also quoted Polani as saying:

"Two dead men won't testify, and we can get away with it . . . If they make one false move, we will do it."

Worthington told how a chance meeting with Polani, a 10-year acquaintance, at the Automotive City Carwash at 16th Street and South Van Ness Avenue on March 15 precipitated him into the burglary plot. Polani, in a series of subsequent meetings, disclosed plans to loot Mrs. Owen's safe. Worthington was doing some remodeling work at her home. He was asked to fix things so the officers and their accomplices could easily get into the room where the safe was kept.

Worthington, who went along with the plan at request of San Francisco police after reporting to Midyett, said one-third of the loot was to go to him, one-third to Polani and one-third to the actual burglars. The loot was to be divided at a Sausalito supermarket, he said.

Acting on Worthington's information, police closed in on Polani, Buckman, and the three ex-convicts: Louis Romero, Winston J. Major and Wesley R. Gant. All have been charged with the burglary attempt.

Mrs. Owen was in a San Francisco hospital at the time. And the safe contained, not the jewels the plotters believed it did, but mostly groceries.

Medical Rule Tightener Bill Gains

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A legislative package that would tighten laws governing doctors and hospitals was pproved today by the Senate Finance Committee.

The bills, sponsored by Sen. Walter W. Stiern, D-Bakersfield received a unanimous voice vote and moved to the upper house floor.

The legislation would:

1. Establish five districts within the state under the jurisdiction of the Board of Medical Examiners.

2. Allow the board to suspend a medical license on grounds of gross negligence, incompetence, an imoral act or violation of any other state medical statute with final action subject to court appeal on points of law only.

3. Provide inspections of certain hospitals by the board to see if statutory rules are being complied with.

Stiern estimated the program would cost $400,000 annually.

Grade School Language Cut Bill Approved

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Assembly gave final passage today to legislation that will allow school districts to drop foreign language classes in grades six through eight.

The measure by Assemblyman Charles B. Garrigus, D-Reedley, allows the State Board of Education to exempt districts from the language requirement when it decides the school cannot afford such a program.

The bill, already passed by the Senate, now goes to Gov. Brown. An urgency measure, it would become law as soon as the governor signs it.

State Architectural Office Faces Probers

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A bill was introduced today calling for an Assembly resolution to investigate costs of the State Office of Architecture and Construction.

Assemblyman Hale Ashcraft, R-Rancho Santa Fe, sponsored the bill. He asked for a comparison of state architectural expenses with similar costs for private architectural and engineering companies.

California's Post Confirmed By Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate confirmed today the nomination of Sherman J. Maisel, California economist-educator, to become a member of the Federal Reserve Board.

Maisel is a veteran assistant professor of business administration at the University of California, Berkeley, and an economic researcher and consultant. He is to serve until Feb. 1, 1968, the balance of the term of A. L. Mills Jr., who resigned.

Span Directors Favor Crossings Coordinator

A new committee of the Golden Gate Bridge District, meeting today in anticipation of state approval for studies on a second bay crossing, urged that the district start looking for a man to coordinate the studies.

Members of the San Francisco-Marin Crossing Committee also urged that a 1962 study be updated. That study suggested a span from San Francisco to Angel Island and Tiburon, but no decision has been made on whether a new crossing would follow tis route.

Bridge Manager James Adams said the cost of such studies has been roughly estimated at $500,000.

Committee recommendations will go to the full bridge board April 30.

Senate Bill 117, co-authored by Sen. J. Eugene McAteer, San Francisco, and Sen. John F. McCarthy, San Rafael, would enable the district to finance a feasibility study. The bill's passage is expected within two months.

Suit For False Arrest Asks Two Counties For $60,000

A Mill Valley man has sued the Marin County and Orange County sheriffs and both counties for $60,000, charging false arrest and imprisonment last Dec. 19.

Alfred Chandler Hinds, 38, of 131 Yale Avenue, filed the suit in Marin Superior Court today. He charges that on Dec. 14 a warrant was issued in Orange County and a copy sent to Marin County Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos by Orange County Sheriff James A. Musick.

The warrant, he alleges, was for arrest of Alfred Hines, a Negro.

Hinds charges he was arrested by Marin deputies and booked Dec. 19, despite his denial of having been in Orange County for several years.

He had to post $159 bail, and $1,000 attorney fees, he charges. The defendants are accused of negligence in the arrest.

State Opposes Tideland Fill For New Tract

OAKLAND (UPI)— Witnesses representing government and civil organizations yesterday urged the Army Corps of Engineers to deny a permit to fill 1,000 acres of tidelands off Alameda's Bay Farm Island in San Francisco Bay.

developers for the land and the mayor of Alameda, however, backed the permit, which would allow Shore Lines Properties Inc., to develop the area for homes.

Hugo Fisher, chief of the California Resources Agency, said there should be no further bay filling until a coordinated program is developed.

"At the very least," Fisher said, fill permits should not be awarded "while the legislature is debating creation of a bay conservation and development commission to prepare a (regional) plan for shoreline development."

Other strong opposition to the fill project came from Charles W. Nelson of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Sacramento, who testified waterfowl and shore birds use tidelands as a feeding ground.

VIET

attacked a base in North Viet Nam and reported they destroyed it.

The target was identified as a base near the My Duc bridge, 30 miles north of the 17th Parallel. The bridge itself had been attacked and destroyed in earlier raids.

One of the Vietnamese planes was downed but was believed lost as the result of bad weather rather than enemy fire, a Vietnamese spokesman said.

U.S. Navy fighter-bombers made five raids during the night on road traffic in North Viet Nam. No planes were lost and groundfire was reported minimal.

Pilots reported destroying nine trucks and damaging eight in strafing attacks on three separate convoys. The attacks centered around Vinh, midway between the border and Hanoi.

Navy fliers said the North Vietnamese turned off their headlights as the planes approached, but that flares were dropped and strafing went ahead.

On the ground, the Marine patrol from Da Nang exchanged machine-gun fire and hurled grenades across a rice field as the Communist guerrillas retreated.

It was the Marines' first extended clash with the enemy since they landed in Viet Nam six weeks ago. Previous contact had been limited to Communist sniping and grenades directed at Marine positions around Da Nang Air Base.

A reserve company of Marines was moved in by helicopter. More reinforcements were standing by at Da Nang, ready for airlift if the fighting broadened.

The Marines had the Communist guerrillas in retreat across the flat terrain. Moving fast and aggressively, throwing grenades into potential enemy positions as they advanced, the Marines planned to keep pushing and maintain contact with the Reds as long as possible.

However, United Press International reported the Marine patrol, a platoon-sized unit, was jumped by the Viet Cong about noon four miles beyond the defense perimeter ringing the big American airbase.

The guerrilla force reportedly pinned down the Americans with heavy small arms fire. The Marines fired back but there was no indication that any Viet Cong were killed or wounded. The Communists withdrew and the Marines continued the patrol, making no effort at pursuit.

The Communists have sniped at Marin units in Da Nang the Hue-Phu Bai area to the north in recent days, but today's action was the first time guerrillas have openly challenged the Leathernecks in combat.

Old Domino Theory Is Still Being Used In S. Viet Nam

By JULES WITCOVER
National Service

WASHINGTON — The Johnson administration apparently has rephrased the Eisenhower administration's old "domino theory" to stem current pressure for negotiation in Viet Nam.

The original domino theory, first enunciated in 1954, argued that loss of one Southeast Asian nation to communism would topple all others like dominoes in a row.

The Kennedy and Johnson administration never openly rejected the domino theory, but of late there had been a disinclination to say the war in South Viet Nam was a do-or-die stand against Communist expansionism.

This has led to speculation that the Johnson administration's real goal now is a face-saving settlement. And that the domino theory is incompatible with any "deal" on Viet Nam.

In this atmosphere, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has presented to Congress a modified domino theory.

The modification says in effect that loss of South Viet Nam might not necessarily topple all the other dominoes, but it would only put off and transfer the site of an eventual showdown with communism over Southeast Asia.

The virtue of this modified domino theory from the administration viewpoint is that it reiterates a firm U.S. interest in South Viet Nam without committing Uncle Sam to a do-or-die stand there.

At the same time, the modified version makes it clear that as far as the administration is concerned, it is preferable from the U.S. view to make the stand in South Viet Nam.

This is the way McNamara has presented the modified domino theory to Congress:

"The stakes in South Viet Nam are far greater than the loss of one small country to communism. It would be a serious setback to the cause of freedom throughout the world and would greatly complicate the task of preventing the spread of communism.

"All of this is not to say that the loss of South Viet Nam to the Communists would automatically mean the loss of all of Southeast Asia.

"Yet, we may be certain that as soon as they had established their control over South Viet Nam, the Communists would press their subversive operations in Laos and then in Thailand and we would have to face this same problem all over again in another place or permit them to have all of Southeast Asia by default.

"Thus, the choice is not simply whether to continue our efforts to keep South Viet Nam free and independent but rather whether to continue our struggle to halt Communist expansion in Asia.

"If the choice is the latter, as I believe it should be, we will be far better off facing the issue in South Viet Nam."

McNamara's argument that South Viet Nam is a preferable battleground to Laos and Thailand is based on a number of points, some spelled out to Congress and some not.

The secretary has referred specifically to the buildup of new equipment, additional combat and training experience for the South Vietnamese forces, and improved recruiting.

He also has referred to the psychological boost a retreat from South Viet Nam would give the Chinese Communists in Southeast Asia.

Not spelled out, but basic to the argument, is the geography. Loss of South Viet Nam, and a pullback to Thailand, likely would spell quick doom to a flanked Laos and Cambodia and would put the forces of the free world with their backs against the Gulf of Siam.

The modified domino theory, with the corollary that South Viet Nam with all its internal troubles is a preferable standing ground, also serves to combat suggestions that Thailand would be a better battle line.

These suggestions point out that Thailand's internal government is more stable and the country's participation in the Southeast Treaty Organization (SEATO) makes it a superior rallying point for a free-world do-or-die stand.

Presumably, the administration is not yet ready to entertain the idea that it would be better to get out of South Viet Nam with a face-saving settlement and fight another day in Thailand. But now, under the modified domino theory, such a maneuver could be passed off as a strategic withdrawal, not a cave-in.

Man Arrested In Contributing

Lloyd Russell Combs, 415 Buena Vista Avenue, was scheduled to appear in Marin Municipal Court this afternoon on the charge.

He was arrested by Mill Valley Police Chief Dan Terzich and Donald E. Midyett, investigator for the district attorney's office, after the county probation office received a complaint from the girl.

Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales said the man, owner of Lloyds of Sausalito, 777 Bridgeway, Sausalito, allegedly made improper advances to the girl between April 11 and Tuesday. He is free on $1,100 bail.

Berlin Plan Put Into Action

BERLIN (UPI) — Anglo-American "contingency plans" set up to meet any Communist squeeze on West Berlin were put into action during the Soviet harassment of the city two weeks ago, the British ambassador to West Germany said tonight.

Sir Frank Roberts said the action included flights by the U.S. and British air forces, which regularly sent planes to and from Berlin at heights the Soviets tried to monopolize.

In this way, Robert said, the British and Americans defied the Soviet attempts to limit use of Berlin's air corridors.

Remains Of Deer Found Near Home

Mrs. J. E. Black of Mill Valley reported to police yesterday that she had found a deer head in a fallen tree and two cartons of remains of a deer near her home at 42 Miller Avenue.

She also reported the cry of deer and of dogs barking early yesterday morning. Police said Fish and Game officials are investigating.

the election in a March 31 letter by Leydecker. The seven nominees for directors were listed as Berglund, Blumenfeld, Grady, Leydecker, Martinelli, Dr. Siemens and Walter.

The directors were to serve until the 1966 annual shareholder's meeting.

A proxy vote form was also provided shareholders, giving authority for Berglund, Blumenfeld and Grady, or any one of them, to cast the proxy vote.

The injunction sought is until Jan. 1, 1970, when the trust agreement expires.

Judge Gardiner required the plaintiffs to post $1,000 bond to guarantee against losses in suit. The defendants are directed to show cause May 3 why the permanent injunction should not be granted.

Resignation of Christensen, Darrow and Leland as directors last December followed a threat by Comptroller Saxon to take over the bank unless all officials resigned who were involved in retention of Wayne L. Bromley, Washington lobbyist, in securing the bank's charter.

Bromley had been paid a $5,000 fee by Roderick P. Martinelli, then the bank's attorney. Bromley's endorsement and that of Robert G. Baker—the Bobby Baker of influence peddling fame—appeared on the check. Martinelli, whose father is one of the bank directors, subsequently resigned as the bank's attorney.

Hospital Labor Problem Talked

Representatives of San Rafael General Hospital and Hospital Workers Union Local 250 today clarified their views in a negotiation session over their current labor disputes.

Hospital administrator Arthur G. Burns said no settlement was reached, but "we agreed on some points."

Next session will be May 3, he said.

Tug Damages Span

A tugboat, believed to be a Navy vessel, sideswiped three wooden pilings surrounding a concrete pier of the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge at 9:30 a.m. today. Roy Iwamoto, bridge manager, estimated damage at $500.

a fugitive and may have left California.

He said Poole indicated he would start proceedings on a federal complaint of unlawful flight to avoid prosecution. This would bring the Federal Bureau of Investigation into the search.

The murder warrant alleges the crime was committed on Friday. The girl's body was found Monday on Muir Woods Road just off Panoramic Highway by two Marin County road employees. She had been stabbed six times in the head with an instrument that may have been an icepick or a screwdriver.

Marin inspectors today were at the garage in an attempt to get blood samples to match with blood in the car, which was found Tuesday on a San Francisco street.

In the car, they said, were the girl's purse, a broken string of rosary beads, her blood-stained leather jacket, a rusty .25 caliber pistol (not believed to be the murder weapon) and two paperback books, one entitled "Blood of the Lamb—A Lusty Novel about Florida Crackers"; the other, "Physiology of Love."

Novatan Booked After Home Fight

A family argument last night put a Novato man into Marin County Jail, charged with felony wife beating, by Novato police.

Jerry Lee Urban, 23, of 1027-B Third Street, was charged with wife beating, assault and battery, being drunk in public and disturbing the peace. Bail was set at $600.

Police were called to the Urban apartment at 7:27 p.m. by a neighbor, Mrs. Gilbert E. Halvorson, 59, of 1027-A Third Street. Police reported Mrs. Urban had been hit and was bleeding about the mouth.

President Rutherford Hayes' wife served lemonade to White House guests. Both were drys.

New Arrests In Murder Of Student

SAN FRANCISCO (AP — Arrests grew to eight today as police traced ownership of the double-barrelled derringer fired wildly into a drive-in crowd from a passing car Monday, killing a 16-year-old Balboa High School boy.

Paul Johnson, 17, a high school dropout, was booked on a charge of illegally possessing the weapon after police quoted Glen Caldwell, 17, as saying he borrowed it from Johnson.

Caldwell is among six Negroes jailed on suspicion of inolvement in the shooting after their car was halted by police.

After Johnson's arrest, police jailed Johnie Daniels, 20, a post office employe, on suspicion of providing a juvenile with a deadly weapon. Officers quoted Johnson as saying he got the weapon from Daniels.

Police said the shooting apparently stemmed from rivaly between Negroes at Balboa High School from the Hunters Point and Ocean View districts.

Garcia was in no way involved in the rivalry and just happened to get in the way of wildly fired bullets, police reported.

Instructors' Report Due College Trustees

Marin Junior College District trustees tonight will hear a report on probationary instructors at the College of Marin. The meeting is set for 8 p.m. in Room 24 of Harlan Hall, at the college.

The report is an annual affair on new instructors before rehiring for the fall semester. The board will also review the list of students applying for graduation.

Blizzard Of Bills Due Tomorrow

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The legislature braced today for a springtime blizzard — an estimated 800 bills to be introduced tomorrow.

Speaker Pro tem Carlos Bee, D-Hayward, told the Assembly that 500 to 600 bills have been prepared for introduction tomorrow, the last day for unrestricted introductions.

A spokesman for the legislative counsel's office, which drafts all the bills for the lawmakers, said about 200 are being prepared for senators.

Tear Gas Used In Demonstration

Governor Defends His Tax Program

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Brown told the California Manufacturers Association today that his tax program will help California's business climate.

"It will amount to another nickel on a package of cigarettes — some increased taxes on inheritances — and the long overdue withholding system, which requires no increase in either rates or added taxes."

Poodles Deliver Skunk To Owner

A dead skunk was dumped on a San Rafael man's front porch last night by his two poodles. Police turned the animal over to county firemen and said it would be tested for rabies.

The Marin County Health Department said today it had not yet received the carcass to begin its tests, however.

Historic Sanctuary

Mississippi Still At Record Crest; Residents Forced To Flee Floods

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Rising Mississippi floodwaters carved a half-mile swath in Dubuque, Iowa, stayed at a record crest in La Crosse, Wis., and aimed their force at Illinois today.

La Crosse dug in for two more days of record flooding that prompted Gov. Warren P. Knowles to comment, "That's enough to make you cry."

The 17.7-foot crest was 7.7 feet above flood stage and 2.4 feet higher than the record of 1952.

Dubuque, a city of 57,000 at the Iowa-Illinois-Wisconsin junction, fought to stave off waters that were expected to crest at 26 feet tomorrow or Saturday.

The water covered a seven- or eight-block area of factories, small businesses and some homes. It covered parking meters and forced residents to flee their homes by boat.

Gov. Harold E. Hughes of Iowa said he was asking legal advice on whether police could evict some 1,000 South Davenport residents who refused to leave their homes despite warnings of rising water.

Hughes estimated flood damage at $15 million and said the waters have forced from their homes some 3,000 persons.

At Hudson, Wis., just above the St. Croix River's junction with the Mississippi, ice chunks severely damaged a $600,000 marina. The floes swept 100 docks as far as five miles downstream. Tugboats hauled away docks that jammed against the Interstate 94 bridge. Damage came to $200,000, a spokesman said.

President Johnson declared as disaster areas the tier of Wisconsin counties that took the Mississippi's worst beating. The state's toll comes to two dead, one missing, some 14,000 persons affected and damage totaling $18.7 million.

Civil Defense authorities estimated that some 3,000 Illinois residents had left their homes from the northwest tip to the middle of the state's western border. The great danger area, they said, was just north of the Quad Cities—Rock Island, Moline, East Moline, Ill., and Davenport, Iowa.

No flood deaths have occurred in Illinois. Damage estimates would be impossible, Civil Defense authorities said.

A two-mile earthen levee in the Quad-Cities is developing boils — blisters from which floodwaters ooze — at a rapid rate, a Civil Defense spokesman said.

If the dike ruptures, he said, "it could reach as far as the town of Erie (10 miles inland)."

Kettenhofen Fails In Bid For Wolfe Grade Plan Support

Kentfield Civic League directors voted 4-2 last night against Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen's resolution to reinstate the proposed Wolfe Grade Road extension in the Kentfield General Plan.

Kettenhofen, who has been stumping the Ross Valley supervisorial area for support, ran into a stiff opposition at a hearing before about 90 league members at Kent School.

There were sharp exchanges, laughs, groans and even a pledge from Kettenhofen that he would vote against construction of the extension if it came up during his current term.

"All I ask is that we set aside the land so that if and when conditions warrant, it can be done," Kettenhofen pleaded. "And I'd also vote against putting it in the five-year capital improvements program."

After Kettenhofen pledged not to vote for construction of the extension during his current term, he was asked whether he intended to seek re-election.

"I don't know whether I'll run," he said. "If I run again I'll make a campaign statement about the Wolfe Grade extension."

Several speakers asked Kettenhofen why he did not reflect the feeling of the more than 800 constituents who signed a petition against the proposed extension.

He replied that if a like petition came in on construction, he would consider it.

Allen G. Wright said once the extension was placed on the plan, it would be difficult to get it out.

Kettenhofen said obtaining land between Marin Catholic High School and Wolfe Grade School for the proposed extension would be insurance that land would be available.

"Who will it be for?" asked Douglas N. Ballinger. "I don't think anyone in this room will be the beneficiary."

At one point there were vague references to possible conflict of interest since the road would serve an area depicted on the plan for business and professional development.

"If I thought anyone was to gain, I'd be the first to bring it out in the open and fight it," Kettenhofen said.

Msgr. Edward M. Dullea, principal of Marin Catholic High School objected to the proposed county park between the high school and Corte Madera Creek, and doubted the wisdom of a 12-story home for the elderly proposed for the adjacent area.

Kettenhofen is seeking to have the board of supervisors rescind its previous action deleting the road extension from the Kentfield General Plan. He wants it restored with a set of conditions aimed at meeting earlier objections.

Before the board vote, Kettenhofen asked for a show of hands from the audience of those in support of his resolution. About 11 hands went up. There were about 85 in the audience at that time, but no one called for a show of hands in opposition.

President William S. J. Van Erp and Directors Kenneth Wiltz, Charles Gillis and James L. Yore voted against Kettenhofen's resolution. Directors F. Bourn Hayne and Robert H. Busse voted in favor.

Hayne said he was "all for" the extension and felt the resolution should say that "it starts tomorrow." Busse said he was voting to support the resolution because he didn't feel the extension would be built without the people having a say.

During the hearing several residents urged that the county consider alternatives to the proposed extension, and several said the Wolfe Grade problem is "San Rafael's problem."

Students Compete In Reading Bard

Motor No. Serial No. Stock No.

1. Subject to the provisions and conditions hereinafter set forth, the Dealer warrants that the Vehicle has been inspected, road-tested and reconditioned as necessary to be in serviceable condition at the time of sale, and, in the event of mechanical failure of the Vehicle, the Dealer agrees as follows:

(a) For a period of 30 days beginning ____, 19____, the Dealer will pay 50% of the parts and labor repair bills, with the exceptions noted below, necessary to keep the Vehicle in serviceable condition under normal use, provided that the repairs are taken care of in the Dealer's shop at the Dealer's regular retail price, that the remaining 50% is paid in cash by the Purchaser, and that such repairs do not qualify for adjustment under any new vehicle warranty applicable to the Vehicle.

Expressly excluded from the above are tires and tubes, glass, radio, air conditioning; any damage resulting from collision, accident, abuse or misuse. Nevertheless, the Dealer will furnish replacement tires, tubes and/or labor during the 30-day period specified above at a discount of 25% from the Dealer's regular prices if the remaining cost is paid in cash by the Purchaser.

(b) For a period of two years following the expiration of the 30-day period specified in (a) above, the Dealer will pay 15% of the parts and labor repair bills necessary to keep the Vehicle in serviceable condition under normal use, provided that the repairs are made in the Dealer's own shop at the Dealer's regular retail price and that the remaining 85% is paid in cash by the Purchaser.

2. This Warranty and the Dealer's undertakings hereunder shall not apply if the Vehicle is used as a for-hire vehicle.

3. This Warranty is issued by the Dealer only and not by the manufacturer of the Vehicle.

4. This Warranty is expressly in lieu of any other warranties, expressed or implied, including any implied warranty of merchantability or fitness for a particular purpose, and any other obligations or liabilities on the Dealer's part, and Dealer neither assumes nor authorizes any other person to assume for it any other liability in connection with the sale of the Vehicle.

5. This Warranty must be available with the Vehicle at the time of payment for any repairs or adjustments, and it is not transferable or assignable.

6. This Warranty is not valid unless signed by the Dealer's authorized department head and by the Purchaser, who is to retain a copy.

We've put new teeth into the famous Chevy OK.

From now on, every used car on our lots that has an OK tag on it has our new OK warranty behind it. In writing.

If there are any bills for parts and labor during the first 30 days of normal use, the dealer pays half. If work or parts are called for during the next two years, your Chevy dealer comes across with 15%. This doesn't include tires and tubes, glass, radio or air conditioning, of course—but it does include everything else necessary to keep your car in running condition.

And since we're Chevy dealers, we don't take something like this lightly. Only those cars we know to be the best get our new OK. We're out to make you a customer for life.

And who knows, perhaps even have the opportunity to sell you a new car someday. But that depends on how we can please you with the used car you're buying now.

So try us. Come on in and see the OK cars and our other good values. O.K.? O.K.!

DRAMA REVIEWS

'Cup Of Trembling' Stresses Emotional Impact, Good Lines

By KARL BARRON

The fragmentary writings of a German theologian in a Nazi prison camp are the springboard Elizabeth Berryhill has used for the dramatic conflict of her play, "The Cup of Trembling," which opened Sunday night at the Festival Theater in San Anselmo.

"The Cup of Trembling" will play with "Waiting For Godot" in repertory through May. This weekend's schedule: Friday, 8:30 p.m., "Cup"; Saturday, 2:00 p.m., "Cup"; 8:30 p.m., "Godot"; Sunday, 7:30 p.m., "Godot."

Erich Friedhoffer, the anti-Nazi pastor of Mrs. Berryhill's drama, is frankly based upon the character of Dietrich Bonhoeffer, but is not biographical, aside from the prison camp letters.

The real Bonhoeffer and the fictional Friedhoffer have one great similarity: Involvement in an abortive plot to assassinate Adolph Hitler—the plot that the Allies refused to back, and that culminated in a bomb explosion in 1944 which failed to get Der Fuehrer.

The human drama involved is the conflict within Friedhoffer, who refuses to kill any living thing, even a poisonous snake, but eventually realizes that only violence can solve the problem posed by the Austrian housepainter gone power-mad.

There are about two dozen characters in the play, all portrayed by six men and two women in this production — a questionable practice as far as this reviewer is concerned. I found myself a little annoyed at times by the sameness of different characters as played by the same actor. Conversely, several actors doubled so well that it became noticeable — interrupting the flow of the play.

The play itself is saved from tedium only in spots by the sparkling dialogue with which Mrs. Berryhill dresses it, plus excellent work by the cast under her direction.

In other spots, the drama's emotional impact, done with simplicity and no melodrama, becomes almost unbearable.

Although this is a play about the church and its relationship with the state, it is also a probing into universal human problems, as when Friedhoffer in desperation cries out "Who am I?" and, of course, finds no real answer.

Ed Pilley, last seen as Norfolk in "A Man for All Seasons," turns in a finely controlled performance as the doubt-ridden pastor. In the scenes on stage alone—with God, when he might become overly sentimental—he retains an ingenuous simplicity that rings true.

The rest of the cast, at times fighting the doubles, the quick changes, in a production reminiscent of the Federal Theater's "Living Newspapers," are all good, all believable. They are Carol Brumm, Marjorie Casebier, Bruce Blake, Jock Macrae, Conrad Knudsen, Jon Sinclair and Owen Orser.

Kudos go to Tom Borden's clever use of two-sided boxes as set pieces. With a simple turn they alternate as tables, chairs, beds, pulpits and even mountainsides.

Sausalito Cast Enjoys Play Centering Around Theater

By GWEN STONE

Actors like nothing better than a play about the theater, and the thespians now cavorting through Jean Anouilh's "Mademoiselle Colombe" at the Sausalito Little Theater are no exception.

With happy abandon, they scream at each other, backbite, attempt seduction, tattletale on each other, and—love. For this is a play about love, its joys, its sorrows, and above all the emptiness of expected love not fulfilled.

They'll be doing it again as the play is repeated Fridays and Saturdays at 8:30 p.m. at the theater at 745½ Bridgeway this week and three successive weeks.

The girl and boy, Colombe and Julien, are married with a small son when we meet them first, and before the final curtain, Anouilh has sliced their characters into sections and placed them under the microscope for us.

The spectacle is not always pretty, any more than life is, but the cast under Dion Chesse's deft direction makes the characters come fully to life.

As Madame Alexandra, Julien's aging actress mother, Joan McKinney gives us a character who is funny (limping offstage with a cane after the fiery portrayal of a 19-year-old girl) but who is also deserving of pity—which no one in the play gives her.

Colombe as drawn by Ann Scofield seems to lose effectiveness in her weeping scenes, losing our sympathy through her howls of anguish rather than enlisting it with more restrained tears. Otherwise she is charm personfied.

She is pursued by a trio of theatrical wolves: Justin Bishop as an hysterically funny aging leading man, Abe Kalish as "Poet-Mine-Own," who writees the company's plays when he's not wolfing, and Karl Barron as the theater's manager.

Far from writing just another bitter-sweet comedy, Anouilh suggests the complex layers of feeling in the characters of Edouard and Gourette Bruce Carradine and Bruce Chesse ably play the two cowardly, frustrated men attacking in their weak way the one man who doesn't seem to fit their picture.

The play, done in three-quarter round, has four different settings, all suggested rather than shown by John Gerrity's hanging walls that cleverly guide the eye but don't come down to the stage.

Patrol Wins Award For Safe Cycling

Marin-Golden Gate Bridge Area of the California Highway Patrol has earned a special award for operating the highest number of motorcycle miles miles without a preventable accident among the 10 Bay Area counties in Zone 3.

In 1964 Marin-Golden Gate officers drove 120,668 miles with no preventable accidents. The recognition came in the patrol's annual fleet safety competition.

Remedial Reading Bill Clears Senate Hurdle

SACRAMENTO (AP)—An $80 million public school remedial reading program for grades 1, 2 and 3 has won approval from the Senate Education Committee.

The bill, designed to eventually save the state money by reducing the number of remedial teachers needed in later grades, plans to pay expert teachers $250 more than the regular salary. It was sent to the Sen Finance Committee.

San Rafael Approves Single-Owner District

The San Rafael City Council last evening passed a series of resolutions setting up San Rafael Cayes Assessment District No. 1 at an adjourned meeting in city hall.

The district is a one-owner district covering land developed by San Rafael Cayes Inc., an offshoot of Lincoln Lumber Co. of Lafayette, in San Rafael Bay.

The resolutions were before the council Monday night, but were postponed because descriptions of some of the easements involved had been submitted too late for checking.

Public Works Director Norris M. Rawles reported yesterday that the easements "were all in order," and his department was satisfied.

The vote on all resolutions was 4-0, with Councilman Harry A. Barbier absent.

The council awarded L. R. Yegge Co. of Los Gatos a contract for construction of a major drainage project, the Bret Harte box culvert, on its low bid of $95,220.

R. and H. Construction Co. of Santa Venetia, low bidder, was awarded a contract for the Summit Avenue sanitary sewer project at $4,592.

The bids were opened at Monday's council session, but the contract awarding was postponed until yesterday's adjourned session so Rawles could review the bids.

Rawles said both projects are scheduled to start in two weeks.

Doctor Being Sued In Malpractice Case

A Greenbrae bone and joint specialist is being sued in Marin Superior Court for $175,000 for alleged malpractice in two 1964 operations on a patient's right knee.

Claire Joslin, 220 Elesio Drive, Greenbrae, field the suit against Dr James C. Marr Jr. The suit charges permanent damage likely will result from negligence during the operations—July 10 and Aug. 3.

Suit Is Filed In Bike Fall

A bicycle fall in Novato last Oct. 7 has resulted in a $400,000 suit for personal injuries in Marin Superior Court.

Louis Taylor of San Francisco, who filed the suit on behalf of his son, Brian, aged 8, alleges negligent maintenance of a pathway by the building firm of Roberts and Aguirre, 1620 Grant Avenue, Novato; the City of Novato, and the County of Marin.

It all states Brian suffered a fractured left arm and other bodily injuries in the fall on the pathway, between the 2400 block of Center Road and Stasia Drive.

Optometry Book

Marin's six high schools and the College of Marin have each been presented with a book on the history of optometry by the Marin County Optometric Society recently. "The Story of Optometry" by James R. Gregg, O.D., was distributed to the school libraries to commemorate the 1,000th anniversary of the birth of Alhazen, an Arabian mathematician who developed the principles of optometric science.

Want To Jump Frogs? Saturday's The Day

If you think you are any good at making frogs jump, the place for you Saturday is Albert Park Field where the first contest of its kind in San Rafael will be held.

Of course if you are really keen, you'll bring along your own geared-up frog. But there's no need: the "Mayor of Frogtown," from Calavaras County, down to judge the jumping, will have a whole batch of them for sale.

The contest is part of Family Day Pet Show organized by the San Rafael Guild of the Louise A. Boyd Museum. Frog frolics are scheduled for 2 p.m. but general festivities start at noon.

Other features planned are the pet show itself and sheep dog demonstrations. Chairman is Mrs. Arthur Ablin of Greenbrae.

Honor Camp Inmate Runs, Soon Caught

A San Quentin Prison camp inmate, serving a six-month to 14 year sentence for burglary, walked away from a work camp at Weott in Humboldt County yesterday morning, but was back in custody within six hours.

Michael Curatolo, 34, who disappeared while on a prison work project, was today in jail in Eureka, held by the Humboldt County sheriff.

Actor Fined For Drunken Driving

CAMARILLO, Ventura County (UPI) — William Hopper, 50, who plays detective Paul Drake on the Perry Mason television series, was fined $276 yesterday for drunkend riving.

Corte Maderan Guilty In Marijuana Case

Judge Thomas F. Keating found Thomas C. Mix, 28, guilty of illegal possession and transportation of marijuana in a court trial yesterday in Marin Superior Court. Judgment is May 17.

Mix, of 100 Palm Avenue, Corte Madera, had a marijuana cigarette in his car last Dec. 10 when halted during a traffic check. Corte Madera police said a later search of his home led to discovery of more marijuana.

The ancient Aztec Indians are known to have played a form of basketball long before the Spaniards visited the New World. For this game, the Aztecs used a large ball made from the gum of the rubber tree.

Catholic High Student Wins With Americanism Essay

Loarn Theolecke, 18-year-old Marin Catholic High School student from San Anselmo, has won first prize in a five-county district in the American Legion Auxiliary's annual Americanism essay contest.

Loarn's award was announced today by Twin Cities Unit 313 of the auxiliary, which sponsored the local contest which he won earlier.

The youth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard S. Thoelecke of 30 San Rafael Avenue, San Anselmo, will receive a cash prize, a medallion, and his essay will be entered in state competition in which a $1,000 scholarship is top prize.

Awards to him and to other local winners in Marin will be presented at a public ceremony at 8 p.m. next Tuesday in the Twin Cities American Legion Hall, Larkspur.

Writing on the subject, "The Foresight of Our Forefathers," young Theolecke said in his essay:

"At the end of the Revolutionary War, the newly formed Confederation of States abounded with disorder. Money was nearly worthless.

"Farms and homes had been ravaged by the foraging of both the British and American forces. The separate states were jealous of one another's power and strove to keep each other in check by refusing to cooperate in any matter . . .

New Bill May Prevent Psychiatric Injustice

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A series of bills designed to prevent unnecessary or mistaken commitment to state mental hospitals have been introduced in the legislature at the request of Gov. Brown.

The bills, proposed Wednesday by Sen. Alan Short, D-Stockton, provide for a state - supported psychiatric screening and referral service; a screening unit to review commitment cases; authorizing the Department of Mental Hygiene to refer questionable cases back to the courts for reexamination, and a placement service for patients.

Alabama Grand Jury Returns Indictments

HAYNEVILLE, Ala. (AP) — A grand jury which investigated the ambush slaying of a white civil rights worker returned indictments today, but whether any of the charges dealt with the killing was not immediately made known.

The Lowndes County grand jury, composed of 18 white men, also investigated other cases since it convened Monday. Under Alabama law the names of defendants cannot be made public until they are in custody.

The report to Circuit Judge T. Werth Thagard did not say whether any of the indictments grew out of the night-rider slaying of Mrs. Viola Liuzzo of Detroit. She was a civil rights worker shot to death near Lowndesboro, Ala., March 25.

Among those questioned by the jury was Gary Thomas Rowe Jr., 34, of Birmingham, who was arrested by federal authorities after the Liuzzo slaying but later released.

Rowe was one of four Ku Klux Klansmen arrested on federal civil rights charges March 26, the day after Mrs. Liuzzo was shot to death in her car near Lowndesboro. A federal grand jury meeting in Montgomery earlier this month indicted the other three men on charges of conspiring to injure persons in the exercise of their constitutional rights.

Those indicted were Eugene Thomas, 42, an employee of U.S. Steel at Bessemer; Collie LeRoy Wilkins Jr., 21, of Fairfield, a self-employed mechanic; and William Orville Eaton, 41, also of Bessemer, a retired steel worker.

Rowe was not indicted and the charge against him subsequently was dismissed. The New York Times said Rowe had been working as an undercover agent for the FBI. Federal authorities, including the FBI, and state officials refused to comment on the report.

At Atlanta, Ga., top Ku Klux Klansmen say they are not surprised by FBI claims the hooded orders have been infiltrated but they say government agents should spend more time seeking Communists.

Calvin Craig, Georgia grand dragon of the United Klans of America, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, said the Rowe case was nothing new.

"He's one of the men who have been playing a duel role all along," siad Craig, 36, last night.

"Actually," he said, "we feel that some of the crimes charged to the KKK have been done by FBI informers to create a state of hatred against the organization when true klansmen were not involved."

He suggested the House Un-American Activities Committee investigate what he called the Communistic element involved in the Selma-to-Montgomery march rather than starting a probe of the KKK.

Polls and petitions fanned out through the Negro community in Bogalusa, La., seeking to pin down who represents the city's 9,000 Negroes in biracial talks, negotiations and demands for civil rights.

Mayor Jesse Cutrer said the league and members of the Congress of Racial Equality "are a small group of self-styled leaders who do not represent the Negro community." He said they "do not want to negotiate. They want to demonstrate."

HENDERSON, Ky. (AP)—Henderson County has an exclusive source of revenue among Kentucky's 120 counties.

Post Office Building Job Is Awarded

Contract to build San Rafael's new post office on Bellam Boulevard near the San Quentin Wye has been awarded to a Los Angeles firm.

N. F. Wallach and Louis Frankel will build the station at a cost of nearly $760,000, then will lease it to the Post Office Department for at least 20 years.

The present main post office at Third and D streets will remain open but will become a branch station after completion of the new office.

EIGHT BIDS

Wallach and Frankel submitted the lowest of eight bids, according to Postmaster General John A. Gronouski.

The air-conditioned one-story building will have 31,000 square feet of floor space, with 62,215 feet outside for parking and driveways.

San Rafael Postmaster Warren H. Williams said earlier that construction might start this spring, with the new post office ready by Christmas.

LEASE PROGRAM

Under the Post Office Department's lease construction program, the firm will buy the property, build the post office and lease it for a basic period of 20 years. The post office will have option to renew the lease for another 30 years.

Site is on the east side of Bellam Boulevard, next to the Blue Chip Stamp center. It has 245 feet of frontage on Bellam and runs 450 feet to Simms Street.

Two bids have been received for another project, a contract post office station in the Loch Lomond area, but there has been no announcement yet of the contract award.

That station will be rented to the department, and the owner will provide clerical employees and facilities for its operation.

Classroom Gives Driver A Chance

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—Kentucky's Public Safety Department is going to give some errant drivers a break, provided they're willing to go to school.

The state's driver point system requires six-month suspension of a motorist's driving privilege if he accumulates 12 points in three years.

A new program will permit drivers who have collected from seven to 11 points to go to a driver training school and shave off three of the points by completing it.

Kentfield Youth Teaches English

An Army specialist from Kentfield, who is "crazy about kids," started teaching orphans in South Viet Nam and discovered a Vietnamese fiancee.

Sp4 Stephen Purcell, son of Mrs. William H. Purcell of 151 Murray Avenue, started his off-duty project at the Gia Dinh (Santa Maria) orphanage, 10 miles west of Saigon about seven months ago.

While helping the Vietnamese children learn to read and write English, he became acquainted with Van Nguyen Bai, 20-year-old sister of the orphanage's administrator.

Purcell, who has learned to speak Vietnamese, and Van shared duties at the orphanage and then became engaged.

Purcell's three-year enlistment is up in December. He hopes to stay in South Viet Nam and continue working at the orphanage.

"He always has been interested in kids," his mother said. "Even when he was a teen-ager, he was interested in the little kids."

As for marriage plans, "he wants to get married now and she wants to wait until he gets out of the Army," Mrs. Purcell said.

Purcell, 21, was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School and attended College of Marin before he enlisted.

He has been in Viet Nam almost two years, and is stationed at the Tan Son Nhut Air Base near Saigon.

His older brother, William H. Purcell, is a teacher at Redwood High School.

Almonte To Send Delegate To Marin Conference

Almonte Improvement Club directors last night voted to send representatives to the Future of Marin Conference June 5 at College of Marin.

Director Edward Prosch reported 44 new paid members since a membership drive began in March.

The board agreed to work out details with the Almonte Sanitary District board on a plan to dispose of garden cuttings and refuse in metal containers provided by a refuse company, following a report on the subject by Robert A. Alexander, chairman of the sanitary board.

Sun Never Sets On Post Offices

LONDON (AP)—The Post Office Record Department reports that it has found a 100-year-old British mail box on the edge of the Himalayas in Kashmir.

The mail box (the British call them pillar boxes) was exported from London to its 7,000-foot-high perch to serve a British army unit a century ago.

The search for historic boxes, launched recently, has increased the cache of the old boxes from 23 to 130.

AUDITORIUM PLAN COMPLAINT EASED

Veterans Spokesman's Worries Over Meeting Room Provisions Cleared Up

Complaints that plans for the proposed Veterans' Memorial Auditorium at the County Civic Center included no permanent meeting rooms appeared to be resolved today during radio KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board" program.

Richard Meihling of San Rafael, member of American Legion Post 37, repeatedly declared his only objection to plans for the building was that no permanent meeting rooms for fraternal, civic and other groups were included.

Peter H. Behr, chairman of the board of supervisors, explained that the building was designed so that portable meeting rooms could be erected in the 13,000-square foot area directly behind the sloped, permanent auditorium seats.

Mrs. Marcelle McCoy, manager of the Marin Art and Garden Fair, emphasized that it was not the purpose of the auditorium to establish permanent meeting rooms.

Meihling declared that meeting rooms, seating 100 to 150 persons, would be required by organizations planning to hold conventions at the auditorium.

"We will give them the rooms they need, all separate, all capable of being whatever size required, and all removable when the group needs the floor space for something else," Supervisor Behr said.

Meihling said he was pleased with this and indicated he had no more complaint about the plans.

Behr emphasized that the plans for the auditorium, unveiled last week to the supervisors, were preliminary and that the board welcomed suggestions and criticism from the public.

Also participating in the program, moderated by Kitty Oppenheimer, was James Burdick, Marin County veteran service officer, who filled in for Charles A. Greif, member of American Legion Post 550, who was unable to be present.

The program will be rebroadcast from a recording at 12:30 p.m. Sunday.

ASTRONAUTS TO BE ENVIED BY THE GIRLS

DAYTON Ohio (AP) — A scientist has come up with every woman's dream—a remote-controlled girdle.

The garment, however, is for astronauts only.

The girdle, he told the Support for Manned Flight Conference here, wraps around an astronaut's waist, has two bulky arms and slim backpiece which contains its own propulsion system.

If the astronaut wished to remain inside his vehicle, Van Schaik said, he can send the girdle outside, pop out a television camera and let the video eye do the seeing for him.

The ancient Spartans were the first to use a secret code or cipher in wartime. The Spartan system involved a strip of leather wound around a wooden rod, with the message written on the leather strip.

Teen-Age Babysitter Slain In State Senator's House

LITTLE COMPTON, R.I. (UPI) — A teen-age girl was slain last night while babysitting at the home of a state senator. Her body was found early today on a roadside.

The girl, Ann Brownell, 18, of Little Compton, was tending the three grandchildren of Republican Sen. and Mrs. Maxwell C. Huntoon.

Her body was found shortly after midnight about one-half mile from Huntoon's house on Warren Point Road. An unconfirmed report said she had been beaten.

Police speculated that Ann was killed in the house, apparently while the children were sleeping.

Doctor Recites Techniques For Re-Planting Arms, Legs

LOS ANGELES (AP) — You're driving along and you pass the scene of an accident.

What do you do?

"Save the man first — but don't go off without his arm," says Dr. J. Vernon Luck, medical director of Orthopaedic Hospital. "There's a good chance the arm can be restored to use."

Dr. Luck told a news conference yesterday that he believes the medical profession — because of advances in blood vessel and nerve surgery — now is "obligated at least to try to restore severed or crushed extremities."

Robert Orona, 64, was run over by a spike-studded earth tamper Aug. 24, 1961. His arm was virtually severed except for a thin strip of skin and two nerves.

Through bone, blood vessel and nerve grafting, the arm was restored to almost full use. Orona held a chair over his head, demonstrating the grasp in his left hand, and told newsmen he could feed and dress himself and even drive a car.

Dr. Luck said that in event of limb loss in an accident the first thing to do is stop the bleeding.

"Then find the severed limb and try to get it on ice," he said. "Send the limb along to the hospital in the ambulance and there's a good chance it can be restored.

"Almost every city nowadays has men who can do this work if they have the chance."

San Anselmo Bond Vote Count Is Up

San Anselmo School District bonds passed Tuesday with a little more breathing space than first believed, county school officials announced late yesterday after a recount of ballots from Gosliner's garage in Sleepy Hollow.

The bonds, which needed a two-thirds majority to pass, were approved by a final vote of 2,398 "yes" to 1,165 "no."

State apportionment of $500,000, which also needed a two-thirds vote, failed with 2,208 "yes" to 1,201 "no."

The first count showed the $700,000 bond issue passing by one vote.

District Supt. Stephen Parodi said failure of the state loan will mean that not all construction planned will be undertaken immediately.

The bond money will be sufficient to build 10 classrooms and a library at the Red Hill site and classrooms for seventh and eighth grades at the Hidden Valley School, he said.

Of the $700,000 in bonds approved, Parodi estimated the district will be able to sell only $485,000 this fall, because of a limit imposed by the district's assessed valuation.

Plans have been started for the new classrooms, expected to be completed by the fall of 1966.

Chamber Favors Tracks' Removal

The tracks are part of the railroad's Sausalito branch.

The chamber heard Ross Tally of San Rafael, representing Consumer's Co-operative of Berkeley, describe plans for a million-dollar co-op market on Tamal Vista Boulevard next to the Department of Motor Vehicles office. Tally said the building would include, besides the market, a community center for meetings and offices of a credit union and insurance company.

Money Stolen

Someone entered the home of David Bennett at 226 Rose Avenue, Mill Valley, between 8:30 a.m. and 8:15 p.m. yesterday and stole $25 to $40 in currency and silver dollars from a plastic piggy bank, Bennett told police. Entry was by forcing a window.

Lending Agencies Bill Is Introduced

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A bill was introduced in the Senate today to give the attorney general's office power to start civil recovery actions against lending agencies that use devious means to increase loan charges.

"The measure resulted from recent cases where private lending agencies have made use of inter-connected companies to double and sometimes triple normal repayment charges," said Sen. Richard J. Dolwig, R-Redwood City, sponsor of the bill.

Lt. Col. (ret.) Robert Eisenhauer is president of the San Marin Homeowners Assn.

3 ABSENTEE BALLOTS TO BE COUNTED

Three absentee ballots in the Novato Fire District board election, which may break the tie between two candidates, were to be opened at a special meeting of the board at 5 p.m. today at Novato Firehouse No. 1.

Henry V. Alvernaz and Joseph F. Silveira each received 460 votes in Tuesday's election to lead a field of six candidates. Only three absentee ballots were received.

Fire Chief George Cavallero, fire board secretary, said Asst. County Counsel Richard V. Godino informed him the absentee votes should be counted as soon as possible; hence the special meeting.

Post-War Baby Boom Crush To Hit Colleges In Fall

WASHINGTON (AP) — The second wave of the long-heralded college crush will hit the campus next fall. There is plenty of proof today that it's going to be a whopper.

Applications for freshman admission to 67 state universities and land-grant colleges are running 34 per cent ahead of last year, the Office of Institutional Research reported.

And last year was bad enough, with a 32 per cent jump over the previous year.

"This year's crop of high school gradutes is going to have the hardest time yet getting into college," Alan Ostar, director, said in an interview. "The squeeze is really on."

The agency figures cover a representative sample of the nation's public colleges and universities, which enroll about two of every three college students.

Although fewer students are involved, the prestige private colleges and universities also are reporting an increase in applications this year.

There's no mystery to the college crush. Primarily it's a result of the post-World War II baby boom.

Soap was beyond the reach of most people until the 19th century when a French scientist mixed soda with animal fats and produced an inexpensive product.

Wild Chase Lands Escaper Behind Bars

A shirt-less, shoe-less escapee from Sonoma County Jail led a Fairfax policeman and a hastily recruited fireman on a wild chase through back yards and over fences last night, before he was finally cornered.

Frank L. Homan, 21, wanted by Sonoma County authorities for a bad check offense and escape, was hiding in the home of Mrs. Wanda Shea at 22 Maple Avenue, Fairfax.

Patrolman Ona D. Carver, who got the call, started out to investigate. En route, he recruited Fireman George Hettema to watch the house from the outside while he went inside.

Shortly after Patrolman Carver was admitted by Mrs. Shea, Romen, sans shoes and shirt, leaped from behind a door. He knocked Carver to the floor and dashed out.

The chase wound a crazy path through back yards, under hedges and over fences. It crossed the city line into San Anselmo before the two caught up with Homen and wrestled him to the ground in the back yard of 88 Valley Road, San Anselmo.

Homen was booked at the county jail on charges of assaulting a police officer, resisting arrest and held for Sonoma authorities on the escape charge.

Fireman Hettema suffered a badly banged knee during the chase and scuffle and went to Marin General Hospital this afternoon to have it checked. Officer Carver suffered cuts and bruises.

Famed Circus Clown Found Fatally Beaten

NEW YORK (UPI) — Friends and colleagues of Paul Jung were being questioned today in the search for clues to the savage slaying of the circus performer, one of the great clowns of modern times.

Jung's body, his head crushed by a blunt instrument, was found yesterday in his hotel room only a half block from Madison Square Garden where the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey circus is making its annual appearance.

The 65-year-old "boss of clown alley," as he was known to the circus world, was lying on his back near the door of the hotel room when he was found by bellboy Archie Thompson and Dean McMurray, assistant manager of the circus.

His hands were tied beneath his body which was clad in a white undershirt and brown striped pajamas.

There were no signs of a violent struggle and no indication that the room had been ransacked.

Authorities dismissed robbery as a probable motive and theorized that the slayer was someone Jung knew and had allowed into his room. An autopsy was planned today and police laboratory experts were examining a three-cell flashlight found in the hotel room to determine if it might have been the death instrument.

Part Of Reno Is Flooded

A 12-inch water main ruptured at a construction project on First between Virginia and Sierra streets.

American researchers believe that North America was bombarded by stony-metallic fragments from an asteroid belt somewhere in space between Mars and Jupiter from 34 million to 700,000 years ago.

Truman's King Criticism Hit

Bunche, undersecretary of the United Nations, made the remark in addressing 1,200 students yesterday on the UCLA campus.

Noting that Truman recently referred to Dr. King as a troublemaker, Bunche, a Negro, said the former president evidently had "spoken from the hip again." The United Nations official expressed disapproval also of a Truman comment that the civil rights march on Montgomery, Ala., accomplished little.

Russ Apparently Drop Goal Of Allied Ouster In Berlin

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union strongly indicated today it has abandoned former Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's long-range goal of ousting the Western Allies from West Berlin.

Despite recent tensions in the divided city, the Russians dropped their insistence that the Western sector be "transformed into a free, demilitarized city."

A list of slogans was published here in advance of the May Day holiday. The list contained no reference to West Berlin.

Khrushchev set the stage for the East-West test of nerves over Berlin in November 1958 when he set a six-month deadline for the evacuation of Western troops from the city.

The deadline passed with the Allies standing firm. Khrushchev finally annulled it in talks with President Dwight D. Eisenhower during his visit to the United States in 1959.

Literary Effort

PALERMO, Sicily (AP) — A student studying an old book in the Palermo library found between the pages a folded sheet of paper 50 by 70 centimeters (20 by 28 inches) in size, on which the 14,233 verses of Dante's "Divine Comedy" had been penned in 69 columns of tiny script.

Thefts From Autos Plague San Rafael

Thefts from automobiles continued to plague San Rafael police today. They said at least three such reports came in yesterday.

Wendell L. Cyphers of 260 Canal Street, Apt. 213, said a $70 four-barrel carburetor was taken from his car while it was parked at his home between 11 a.m. Tuesday and 10:20 a.m. yesterday.

A pair of chrome tires and rims, worth a total of $40, was reported stolen from a car left at Albert's Transmission, 81 Hoag Street, between 6:45 p.m. Tuesday and 9:30 p.m. yesterday.

Albert Tanner, owner of the firm, was uncertain who owned the car, but said it was brought in by a Richard White, whose address was given only as Fairfax Street, San Rafael. Police sought today to reach White.

Shirley King of 51 Piper Lane, Fairfax, said the side mirror was stolen from her car while it was parked behind the Albert Building on Julia Street between 12:15 p.m. and 2:55 p.m. yesterday.

Police also learned yesterday of the theft of a metal box with $35, papers and credit cards from a safe at the L. H. Leonardi Electric Co., 717 Francisco Boulevard. Henry L. Leonardi of the firm said the box probably was taken while a secretary was away from the building, leaving the safe unlocked.

Eavesdropping Detective Freed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Court of Appeals overturned today the conviction of a private detective for illegally listening in on a hotel conversation. He later was compelled to tell a grand jury about the eavesdropping incident.

The court's ruling was that if a witness is granted immunity from prosecution, and is required to testify about any matter on that basis, he is exempt from any penalty for his action in that matter even though the testimony comes after his conviction.

The decision by Judge Charles Faky set aside the conviction of Oliver W. Angelone for violating the Federal Communications Act.

Haircut Price Up For Contra Costa

MARTINEZ (AP)—Men had to pay $2.50 for a haircut — up 25 cents — in most of Contra Costa County today.

Oakland barbers will vote Monday on financing a welfare program with a price increase to $2.50, a 25-cent raise.

Russ Ideologist Woos Chinese Cooperation

MOSCO W(AP) — The Soviet Union's new ideological boss extended a strong new bid to Red China today to bury disputes and unite in what he called the struggle against imperialist aggression in Viet Nam.

He also criticized Chinese attacks on Soviet policy, charging that Peking had failed to offer any constructive suggestions.

Pyotr Demichev, 46, Soviet Communist party secretary newly placed in charge of ideological questions, was speaking at a mass Kremlin meeting marking the 95th anniversary of the birth of Lenin.

"Our party," Demichev said, "keeps to the line of improving relations with the Chinese Communist party on a Marxist-Leninist basis and has taken important steps in this direction."

He called Peking "our ally in the struggle against imperialism." He said the international situation demands Communist unity now, that "imperialism, first of all the America imperialists, resort to open aggression in Laos, the Congo, and Viet Nam."

Demichev said it was natural for Communist parties to disagree.

Referring to the Chinese, he said: "It is characteristic that no one has brought forward any concrete proposals aimed at achieving the cohesion of our movement.

"This again shows the weakness of their position and their absence of will to strengthen the unity of the Communist movement."

Demichev said the Soviet Union faced no necessity of choosing between a policy of peaceful coexistence and support of so-called "national liberation movements."

"The policy of peaceful coexistence does not preclude but presupposes rebuff to aggression and support for the peoples that are fighting against alien domination for their freedom and independence," Demichev said.

Demichev also warned in a one-hour speech that peaceful coexistence applies to relations between all countries.

"The Soviet Union also rejects the concept, now current in the West, that the sphere of peaceful coexistence must be limited to relations of the great powers," he said.

"An aggravation of the situation in any part of the world invariably affects the entire international situation. While provoking war against a Socialist country, one cannot hope at the same time to improve relations with other Socialist countries."

Tokyo Police, Students Clash

A few minutes before Rostow's arrival at Tokyo International airport riot police pushed a group of several hundred slogan-shouting Zengakuren students back from the edge of the observation platform overlooking the airfield.

Police pummeled the students with truncheons but there were no reported injuries or arrests. About 1,000 students were involved in incidents inside and outside the airport.

Clothing Store Hit By Blaze

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A sudden sheet of flames, 20 feet high, roared up the Stockton Street side of I. Magnin & Co., women's clothing store, at 5 a.m. today, cracking a show window and two doors.

Police said they saw two men toss something into a bundle of papers, then race across Union Square.

Officers booked Frederick Frieslander, 22, and Daniele Newcomb, 27, identified as an unemployed ski-lift operator from Tahoe Valley, for investigation of arson. Both protested they had no idea what happened.

Windows Smashed

Two skylights in the newly constructed Mill Valley Tennis Club at 285 Manor Drive were broken, apparently with rocks, Samuel A. Johnson, club member, told police today.

Steel Union Leaders Vow To Strike

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The steelworkers union vowed today to strike the basic industry May 1 to back up its 18 cents an-hour contract demands.

At the conclusion of executive board meeting, director Paul Gilbert said: "No contract, no work."

The union's wage policy committee was scheduled to meet later in the day to give final strike authorization.

A walkout would idle 425,000 workers.

Negotiators for both sides said yesterday that after weeks of bargaining they have gotten nowhere in attempts to write a new national steel pact. They rejected each other's proposals.

Negotiators are separated by a 13-cent-an-hour gap. The 11 major producers offered five cents. The union demanded 18 cents.

Meeting Postponed

Sausalito Library trustees did not meet last night as scheduled. The board will meet instead at 9 a.m. Saturday in the library, at which time it plans to discuss appointing a person to do a community survey on what is needed for the proposed new library.

McCarthy Introduces Flood Control Bill

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO—Legislation to pave the way for a $6.8 million flood control work on Corte Madera Creek was introduced today in the State Senate by Senate Minority Leader John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael.

Of the estimated $6,862,000 cost of the project, $5,534,000 will be provided by federal funds. The rest must come from state and local funds.

The bill would add three sections to the State Water Code, authorizing the State Department of Water Resources to participate in the project. The Department of Water Resources provides funds for land acquisition, and the Army Corps of Engineers does the actual flood control work.

Major portion of the project will be concrete and earth channeling of the creek below College of Marin.

Annual maintenance cost of the project, after it is completed, is expected to run about $26,000. The county will have to pay for maintenance.

Paradise Drive Widening Plan Back To Engineers

Plans for widening Paradise Drive in Corte Madera from the Northwestern Pacific Railroad to El Camino Drive were sent back to engineers last night by the Corte Madera Planning Commission with a request to improve access to shopping centers.

Commissioners complained that cars leaving the shopping areas on the south side of Paradise Drive would find it difficult to turn left to head for Highway 101.

The commission also reviewed plans for the proposed Berkeley Consumers' Co-operative Store on Tamal Vista Boulevard near the Department of Motor Vehicles building, although the land is outside the town limits.

The co-op was asked to review parking plans, which were called minimal for the size of the proposed market.

Dry Pea Crops

PULLMAN, Wash. (UPI) — All the nation's lentils and 95 per cent of its edible dry peas, both legume crops, are produced in Eastern Washington and a nearby area of Northern Idaho, according to the Washington State University agricultural extension service.

Special Education Program Is Scheduled For Teachers

The Marin County schools office will sponsor "Our Commitment to Excellence," a special program on special education, April 30 and May 1.

Dr. Edgar A. Doll, consulting school psychologist in Bellingham, Wash., will act as consultant for the group discussions on various phases of the special education program.

The program will open with a session for teachers, administrators and psychologists at 10 a.m. April 30 in Room 400, Civic Center. There will be a banquet at 7 p.m. that day at Bob's of Marin, Corte Madera, with Doll as main speaker.

General session will start at 8:45 a.m. May 1, running all day at Vallecito School, 50 Nova Albion Way, San Rafael.

Asst. County Supt. Stanley Friese said the office hopes to make such meetings an annual series.

Pollution Speaker

Air Pollution Ispector Paul N. Brand will be guest speaker at the Marin County Assn. of Volunteer Firemen meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow in Tamalpais Valley Firehouse No. 1.

San Rafael Lions Elect

Glenn Sleezer, a San Rafael public accountant, was elected yesterday to succeed merchant Kenneth McKenzie as president of the San Rafael Lions Club.

Other new officers elected were:

First vice president, Louis Milani; second vice president, Charles L. Convis; third vice president, Fred B. Saccone; secretary, B. J. Brusatori; treasurer, Arthur C. Latno; lion tamer, Howard A. Levenson; and tail twister, George Klein.

The Lions also elected two directors, Clifford S. Lund and Calvin R. Davis, ot serve two-year terms.

MARCH OF DIMES AIDS HOSPITAL

Mrs. Edna Hammond (left), patient care chairman for the Marin chapter of the National Foundation-March of Dimes, is joined by Dr. Brawford Simmons, president of the staff of Marin General Hospital, and Mrs. Julia Schmidt, hospital librarian, as she dedicates a shelf in the hospital library to books on birth defects. The March of Dimes is now dedicated to the campaign against birth defects.

Italian Leader Convinced United States Seeks Peace

WASHINGTON (AP) — Italian Premier Aldo Moro, leaving Washington after two days of talks, said today he will go home convinced that "the search for peace is the uppermost concern of the United States — peace in liberty, in justice, and in social progress."

Moro was given full military honors in a ceremony at the Ellipse, behind the White House, before leaving by automobile for Philadelphia and New York. He flies to Italy tonight.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey said goodby to Moro, on behalf of the President and the administration.

The talks were "very helpful and rewarding, many great problems which face mankind were raised," the vice president said.

Car Rotor Stolen

A rotor was removed from the 1951 Chevrolet of Frank Dittel of 153 Walnut Avenue, Mill Valley, yesterday, he reported to police. The car was parked on Locust Avenue, he said.

Corte Madera Creek Park Plans Proposed

The Marin Conservation Council has asked its affiliates to urge the board of supervisors to present plans to the Army Corps of Engineers which will maintain public access to Corte Madera Creek from Kentfield to San Francisco Bay.

The action was taken at the council's meeting last night at the Marin Rod and Gun Club, according to Mrs. Jean Barnard, corresponding secretary.

"We'd like to see a park developed on the county-owned land under the Greenbrae interchange on Highway 101 and walkways along the channel after the corps has dredged the creek," Mrs. Barnard said.

The council also hopes the shallow sand bar at the entrance to the creek from the bay will be dredged, she reported.

The council agreed to join in sponsoring the day-long "Future of Marin" conference to be held June 5 at the College of Marin in Kentfield.

Sausalito Planners Favor Cloud View Trail Retention

Cloud View Trail in Sausalito should not be abandoned, the Sausalito Planning Commission decided last night.

Commissioner George C. Hoffman, who toured the trail with Commissioner John A. Sweeney, said the trail can be used as a pedestrian walk. The commission will recommend denial of G. K. Elkington and Sons' request for abandonment.

Commissioners agreed to request $19,500 in fiscal 1966 budget for contractual services for planning the central waterfront, revision of the general plan, a sign ordinance and general services. The current year's budget provided $12,400 for such services.

The commission continued to May 19 a request by A. G. Schoonmaker Co. for an amendment to the zoning ordinance permitting the company to continue sand and gravel business.

Tougher Voter Protection Asked

WASHINGTON (AP)—Twelve members of the Senate Judiciary Committee joined today in a statement declaring that "new, strong legislation" is needed to protect Negro voting rights.

The seven Democrats and five Republicans urged passage of a measure that would suspend literacy tests and provide for federal registration of voters in wide areas of the South.

The Senate opened debate today on President Johnson's voting rights measure, with leaders of both parties predicting passage in two to four weeks.

Expert Predicts More Temblors

PASADENA (AP) — Dr. Charles Richter, Cal Tech seismologist, says additional small earthquakes are likely in the Pomona and San Bernardino valleys.

Richter made the comment in noting yesterday that six shocks —ranging in magnitude from 3.3 to 4.5—have occurred since Dec. 31 in the area between Chino and Mira Loma.

He said the seismic activity apparently is along a fault with an epicenter about five miles east of Chino.

Sweaters Galore New Store In Downtown San Rafael

A recent business opening in down town San Rafael that appears to have been buried under the sheer weight of the Northgate Shopping Center grand opening celebration at the same time is Sweaters Galore at 1328 Fourth Street.

This is a joint venture of theater chain executive Jack Blumenfeld of San Rafael and William Salzberg of San Francisco, with the latter managing the store. Merchandise stocks include sweaters, knit suits and coordinates for women of all sizes and ages. Goods are mostly imported.

Salzberg has been in the men's wear business in San Francisco for the past 17 years but is no stranger to Marin. He has been a frequent visitor to the county for a long time and is familiar with its merchandising patterns.

AFTER A LONG period of expansion and remodeling showrooms at 1541 Fourth Street, San Rafael, Catania Sound is having open housc for the general public Sunday from 1:30 to 5:30 p.m. to exhibit new sound equipment and installations.

On the hour, each hour, a program, "Progress in Sound," will be featured, and there will be a guided tour around the premises between shows by the staff. Besides custom stereo music systems for the home, Catania installations now include sound systems for churches, auditoriums, schools and theaters and in the field of leased background music. The firm has been in business since 1948.

ANTON WOLTERING of A and E Motors, 30 Duffy Place, San Rafael, has taken on the agency for imported NSU cars made in West Germany. He already has in stock the conventional Model 1000—but it probably will be another month before arrival of the new Wenkel-Spider. This is the car with the revolutionary one-cylinder rotary piston engine.

MILL VALLEY automobile dealer Larry Brink has been elected to a two-year term on the 24-member national American Motors Corp. dealer advisory board as representative of the San Francisco zone, covering Rambler dealerships in Northern California and Nevada. He has been a Rambler dealer since 1958.

CUSTOMERS of Marin Bay Lincoln-Mercury Sales, Inc., San Rafael, had a chance to express their likes and dislikes about their cars and also this dealership the other day when agency president Herkimer Viglienzone picked 11 owners of Lincolns, Comets and Mercurys at random and took them to lunch, suggesting that "now is the time to get anything that bugs you off your chest." The meeting was part of a continuing program initiated nationally by the Lincoln-Mercury Division of Ford Motor Co.

NEW STAFF MEMBERS with Gallagher-Sturiale Realty are George Circo, formerly with Bay Counties Realty; Richard Ford, formerly with Lincoln Realty Co. and Vincent Traina who has been working in San Francisco. All are San Rafael residents. Circo will work with Gallagher-Sturiale's San Anselmo office; Ford and Traina will be headquartered at the Terra Linda office.

CORRECTION. Gingham Girl, 490 Magnolia Avenue, Larkspur, does not deal in women's wear as mentioned in this column Monday—but in children's wear. Dresses are in sizes 1 to 17 which extends up to about the size for a 13-year-old girl. Sorry.

Market Closes Higher After Active Trading

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed generally higher today with some of the international oils solidly ahead. Trading was active.

Standard Oil (New Jersey) and Texaco were up about 2 each. Royal Dutch gained more than a point.

The steels were soft amid doubt concerning prospects for a steel strike by the May 1 deadline. U.S. Steel lost a fraction.

General Motors erased a loss and edged higher. Chrysler regained about a point.

Volume for the day was estimated at 5.9 million shares compared with 5.6 million yesterday.

Here was the picture near the close:

Gains of fractions to a point or so among key stocks outnumbered losers.

Oils, airlines, electrical equipments and selected industrials made progress.

Texaco, Standard Oil (New Jersey) and Royal Dutch all advanced more than a point.

Texas Gulf Sulphur was an active fractional gainer after erasing an early decline. The annual shareholders meeting was told of higher sales and earnings.

Pan American Sulphur lost a point and a half in heavy trading on news that an export shipment of sulphur from its Mexican mines had been stopped by Mexican officials.

Carter Products was down a point and a half on news of a dispute about the merits of one of its tranquilizers.

SIGN OF NEARING COMPLETION

Crocker-Citizens National Bank's San Rafael office, under reconstruction for well over a year, took on the appearance of a more completed structure as Paul Archuletta of Federal Sign and Signal Co. lifted block lettering into place on the bank's huge outside walls. Exterior work on the bank should draw to a close next month. Interior finishing will take longer.

EVER TRY CRATING A FLAMINGO?

Fifteen flamingos were shipped to the Florida exhibit at the New York World's Fair and "Miss Hialeah," Linda Lou Worley, was selected to help with the crating in Hialeah, Fla. Linda had little trouble catching the bird but getting those long legs, the long neck and the flapping wings into a crate was another matter. (AP Wirephotos)

Found Body Not That Of Marin Man

Asst. County Coroner William C. Bradley today ruled out the possibility that the body of a young man found floating off McNear's Point Sunday was that of Ancel Handy, 27, San Pablo man missing since his boat burned mysteriously and sank in San Pablo Bay three weeks ago.

Handy had been in the boat with Herman L. Cochran of Richmond, who turned up in Van Nuys yesterday and told police a bizarre story of having been knocked unconscious, kidnaped and robbed.

Cochran, who said he did not know what happened to Handy, told police their boat ran out of gasoline and he jumped into another boat which had come alongside, to borrow some fuel.

He said he was clubbed over the head and for the next three weeks held prisoner, both in the Bay Area and in Southern California.

Bradley today said the body could not be that of the missing man, Handy, because Handy had false teeth. The unidentified body did not.

Bradley said the body would be buried Monday, but a chart of the teeth would be kept for possible future identification.

Hub Schools Rent Portable Buildings

There will be no double sessions in the San Anselmo School District next fall, district trustees decided last night as they voted to lease four portable classrooms.

The board also approved pay increases of about 4 per cent for teachers and about 5 per cent for other workers.

Low bid of $8,736 by Modulux Co., Newark, was accepted for the portables, two of which will be placed at the Isabel Cook School and two at Brookside School. The portables will be removed when new permanent rooms are completed in 1966.

Modulux was $4 under Speedspace Corp., Santa Rosa, in bids to supply the portables.

The teacher salary increase raised the minimum starting salary from $5,208 to $5,292 a year, and the top salary, with a master's degree, from $9,852 to $10,308.

Total cost to the district for increases was estimated at $37,660. This would more than wipe out the extra money expected to come to the San Anselmo district because its voters favored the Tamalpais unification measure.

Although unification lost, it was approved in the San Anselmo district by a vote of 2,110 to 1,440, qualifying the district for about $31,500 in additional state aid.

Salaries of other employees, not including administrators, were raised from $20 to $25 a month, for a total cost to the district of $6,983.

The board set a special meeting for 8:30 p.m. April 27 with representatives of the Cypress Abbey Cemetery to discuss access to Mount Tamalpais cemetery past the Red Hill School site. A second special meeting, to discuss the 1966 budget, will be held at 8 p.m. May 4. Both will be at Isabel Cook School.

A request by the Yolansdale Parents Club for a fulltime library clerk was postponed until budget discussions.

Dixie Railroad Pickets Barred By Court Order

ATLANTA (UPI)—The Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen struck the Southern Railway today in a walkout that halted some trains, but the union said it would pull down its picket lines because of a court order enjoining the strike.

Before the order was issued, the strike which began at 6 a.m. EST halted three passenger trains at Knoxville, Tenn., and prompted picket lines at Southern's terminals and yards throughout the South.

The brief strike tied up all Southern passenger service coming into Atlanta, the railroad hub of the South.

Driver Crashes, Faces Charge Of Resisting Arrest

Michael Steven Pierce, 30, of 83 Walnut Avenue, Mill Valley, was charged by San Rafael police with resisting arrest early today after his Volkswagen hit a mail box and turned over on Lootens Place near Fourth Street.

Police said they found Pierce sitting by his overturned car, smoking a cigarette. When informed he was under arrest, he told the San Rafael officers they were violating his rights, and refused to go.

Joint Service Club Luncheon Is Slated

This year's joint service club luncheon, with the San Rafael Lions Club and San Rafael Chamber of Commerce as joint hosts, will be held May 12 at Hamilton Air Force Base, concurrent with the 30th anniversary of the base and Armed Forces Week.

Deadline for luncheon reservations is May 4, according to chamber manager Jack Alvarado.

Dixie Trustees Organize Drive For Federal Grants

A non-profit corporation has been formed in the Dixie School District in an attempt to get state and federal grants which now go only to colleges and junior colleges.

Trustees of the district will discuss the corporation at a special meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the district office, 35 Trellis Drive.

Supt. Dennie B. Willis said there are now 70 members, including teachers and some other school employees. The board will decide tomorrow if the membership should be expanded to draw in residents of the district.

Willis said it is not sure if the corporation can obtain the grants but it is certain that no grant is possible to the district itself. Money, if obtained, would be used to explore new methods of teaching.

The new corporation is called the Dixie Institute for Educational Research. The matter is coming before the board at a special meeting, because some teachers had suggested that it be described at a dedication ceremony for the new Miller Creek Intermediate School at 1:30 p.m. Sunday.

Also on the agenda is consideration of a replacement for Board Chairman Lawrence I. Kramer, who had to resign when he was elected to the San Rafael Board of Education April 12.

Trustees will consider a complaint from Ralph L. Schooling who wants the remedial reading program to remain in the summer school. Willis said remedial reading was removed because "we think we can do a better job" for remedial pupils in the regular reading classroom.

Tejon (pass in Los Angeles County) means badger. Name given to the canyon in 1806 by Lt. Francisco Ruiz because soldiers of his expedition found a dead badger at the canyon's entrance. The name also was given to historic Old Fort Tejon, Kern County.

Teen-Agers Jailed In Student Killing

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Four teen-agers were in jail today, booked on suspicion of murdering a Lincoln High School track star in what police called a "senseless killing."

Thomas Garcia, 18, was fatally stabbed March 5 as he left a party in Highland Park.

Arrested last night were Hector E. Tobar, 18, a carpenter, and Joe Bautista, 19, a laborer. Two others were booked as juveniles and their names were withheld.

It's 'Lovey Dovey' McCovey Again

"People have been calling me up on the phone," smilingly complained Willie McCovey. "Man you'd think I was doing something wrong."

There should be no complaining about or from a player hitting .393. But among the 11 hits the big left-handed slugger for the San Francisco Giants has smacked, only one has gone for extra bases.

That one went 400 feet over the right field fence in the third inning for a two-run homer last night at Candlestick Park, helping the Giants to a 3-2 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

"I'm playing the best baseball I know how," continued McCovey. "Every hit I get feels good—singles and home runs."

The McCovey home run, the first homer by any Giant besides Willie Mays this season, made a loser out of southpaw Joe Gibbon (0-2). After some struggling and his own timely single, it made a winner out of Juan Marichal for second time in three tries.

Marichal surrendered eight hits, issued an intentional walk and struck out seven. He came to the plate in the seventh with men on second and third and one out.

With the infield in and reliever Elroy Face on the mound, Marichal smashed a screaming grounder at third baseman Bob Bailey. Bailey managed to catch it, but the ball completely handcuffed him and he eventually dropped it, allowing Marichal a base hit.

It scored Jim Hart, who had singled and moved to third on Ed Bailey's single and Hal Lanier's sacrifice.

Marichal gave up a homer to Bill Virdon in the eighth on a 2-0 count to the Pirate center fielder.

"I thought he'd be taking the pitch," commented Marichal. "I know you don't throw a fast ball to him, but I had tried two curve balls and they didn't work."

Bailey's homer in the 10th inning of the season's first game beat Marichal 1-0. The Dominican right-hander, 21-8 last year, got revenge by striking out Bailey twice.

The last time came after Virdon's homer and a single by Roberto Clemente. Bailey got thrown out of the game for protesting the third called strike.

With Donn Clendenon on base with the first of his three singles, Marichal threw a pitch that bounced just in front of Hiatt.

Clendenon, running with the pitch, reached second and took third on Hiatt's underhand throw into center field. He scored on a shallow sacrifice fly by Jim Pagliaroni between first and second. It was a close play at the plate.

"I thought he was out," said the 22-year-old Hiatt, making his first appearance as a Giant.

"I wouldn't have argued if I hadn't.

"I called a few pitches that Marichal switched," said Hiatt, who disclosed that the hurler gave the signals 60 per cent of the time. "I was a little edgy behind the plate but I felt all right at bat."

"He'll catch again," said Franks, who pulled Hiatt in the seventh for the more experienced Bailey because Pirates were on first and third. "He swings a bat real good."

AUSSIE TENNIS GREAT PRO AT PEACOCK GAP

Ken Rosewall, winner of singles titles in United States, Australia and France and veteran Davis Cup player, has joined the list of outstanding sports figures at Peacock Gap Country Club.

He will be the new touring tennis pro, according to announcement by Jerome C. Draper Jr., president of the Draper Companies, owners and developers of that residential sports center off San Pablo Bay in San Rafael.

Rosewall is currently on tour with the International Professional Tennis Players Assn., but it's anticipated that he will make frequent visits to Peacock Gap for exhibitions and clinics.

Anything In A Fur Coat

Not so many years ago, I went to a dinner party at the home of a friend, Ezra Goodman. Present also was the head of a news magazine, Leonard Slater, and a struggling author and fan magazine writer, Irving Wallace.

I bring this to mind because it wasn't so long afterward that we all had books in the stalls around the country. Ezra had a sardonic but valid history of Hollywood. If anyone had suggested that night I would have a compendium of sports columns in hard cover, the neighbors would have rapped on the walls for the loud hoots of laughter it would cause. No one thought Irving Wallace's idea for "The Chapman Report" or "The Prize" sounded best-seller-ish either. Unless he did.

And this week, Len Slater weighs in with the biggest surprise of all, a —of all things— biography of Aly Khan.

WHILE SLATER'S book, titled simply "Aly," will never put you in mind of "My Greatest Day In Baseball" or "Roger Maris at Bat," it does have its sports angle. I don't know whether you know it or not but before Aly Khan took up dear-hunting, he used to excel at fox-hunting. Later, of course, he branched out in pursuit of anything in a fur coat. But, oddly, it was horses that were his first and last passions and it is just possible that he and his father did more for American horse racing than the Daily Double.

THE PUBLIC image of Aly Khan is that of a practicing libertine who emerged from the boudoir only under extreme provocation, like a bombing raid, who chose wives by running a finger down Photoplay Magazine's top ten female stars, and who went through life with lipstick on his cheek and his hair being mussed by painted fingernails. But the evidence is, he was far happier in a stable than a drawing room, on horseback rather than the dance floor.

HIS FATHER comes into focus as a fat old party in a cutaway coat and furled umbrella who, when he ran out of betting money, hied himself off to his Ismaili to get himself weighed on a public scale against an equal amount of diamonds and gold. The Ismailis regarded the Khans as gods despite the rather devastating evidence of mortality adduced by a number of divorce-court transcripts around the world.

Actually, the Aga Khan invested the wealth he got out of the public scales for the public good —putting it in a kind of national open-end mutual fund which made the Ismaili community one of the richest sects in Asia if not the world.

Not the least profitable of their investments were race horses.

THE ALY and Aga Khan were less father and son than rivals. Their temperaments were totally different. The Aga Khan was as secretive and conservative as a banker, a man of glacial dignity and somberness. Aly was outgoing, effervescent—a crowd pleaser.

For one thing, Aly was illlegitimate. His father didn't get around to marrying his mother till he was 11 years old. The Aga bought them villas on the Riviera, summer homes in Paris, lavished money on them—gave them everything but his name. The fact, too, that Aly was half-Italian put a cultural and personality gap between himself and his father that was so totally unbridgeable that Aly never did become THE Aga Khan. Almost with his dying breath, the Aga scratched his mercurial Latin son from the field and passed the succession down to his grandsons, a snub that many believed was to make Aly not try very hard to get out of the way of the highway collision that took his life four years ago.

IT WAS only on the race track that father and son behaved like it, shared a common point of view. Some of the horses they bred, raced or sold read like a Who's Who of the American turf: Nasrullah, Noor, Nathoo, Blenheim. American breeders like Rex Ellsworth, Neil McCarthy, Bull Hancock, Leslie Combs beat a path to the walking rings of these Moslem deities every time an American blood line seemed to be drying up.

It was Noor, of course, who humbled the mighty Citation, one of America's great race horses, and it was Nasrullah, a moody, vicious stallion whom Europeans and even the Irish managers of Aly Khan's stud considered such a no-count people-biter and sulker that, when they sold him to an American syndicate, they clapped each other on the back for weeks for having deported that 1200 pounds of malevolence on the hoof for a profit.

If Bold Lad or Jacinto wins this year's Kentucky Derby—both are grandsons of Nasrullah and neither will be a long shot if entered—it will be a pity not to see a jaunty, handsome, bedroom-eyed character in a gray top hat, Ascot tie and an armload or two of pretty chorines standing by the winner's circle.

CLENDENON CALLED SAFE ON THIS PLAY

Umpire John Kibbler calls Pittsburgh Pirates Donn Clendenon safe as he slides to the plate, scoring on Jim Pagliaroni's sacrifice fly in the second inning last night at Candlestick Park. Apparently making the tag on Clendenon is new Giant's catcher Jack Hiatt, making his first appearance with the San Francisco club. The throw had come from Giant second sacker Hal Lanier.

Daniele's Three-Bagger Big Blow In 1-0 Battle

Junior rightfielder Fred Daniele's seventh inning triple knocked in the only run of the game yesterday as Terra Linda High School's Trojans nipped Redwood 1-0 in a make-up Marin Athletic League game.

The game, played on Redwood's diamond, was a pitchers' battle all the way. Winning pitchers' battle all the way. Winning pitcher Mike Ainslie allowed only three scattered hits and didn't let a runner get past second base. He struck out 9 and walked only 1 Redwood batter.

Redwood righthander Scott Murphy also had allowed only three hits before the fateful final inning. Terra Linda second baseman Bill Hall opened the inning by flying out. Shortstop John Forry then singled and stole second. Left fielder Ken Pike fouled out to make it two down.

BIG BLOW

Then up stepped Daniele, younger brother of Jerry Daniele, another baseball and football star who was graduated from Terra Linda. Fred blasted a triple to left center, scoring Forry, for the big blow of the game. Murphy then struck out catcher Pete Marcovich for the third out, but it was too late.

In the bottom of the seventh, Redwood went three up and three down from the baffling slants of Ainslie. Murphy, who lost only his second game of the year against five wins, struck out three and walked one.

Shake-Up Pays Off; Subs Start St. Louis 'Streak'

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Only one victory in six games is enough to shake up anyone who might be managing baseball's world champions.

So Red Schoendienst, in turn, shook up his line-up, and the St. Louis Cardinals are on the way with their second one-game winning streak this season.

The Cardinals, with two of the rookie manager's bench members supplying some punch, defeated Milwaukee 6-3 last night behind the six-hit pitching of Bob Purkey.

The victory didn't help St. Louis vacate the National League cellar, but Schoendienst nevertheless was highly pleased with the work of second baseman Phil Gagliano and right fielder Tito Francona.

Gagliano, who has played only parts of the last two seasons for the Cardinals, took over from Julian Javier, who had managed only four hits in 23 trips to the plate for a .174 average.

Francona, a winter acquisition from Cleveland, subbed for Mike Shannon, one of the 1964 World Series heroes who has rapped only one single in 22 at bats for an .045 average.

The 23-year-old Gagliano didn't get a hit, but he did drive in two runs with sacrifice flies. Francona tripled in the second inning and scored on Gagliano's first fly, then singled Dick Groat into scoring position in a four-run fifth inning.

So much was Schoendienst impressed with his second-stringers' showing that he is considering resting Ken Boyer despite the third baseman's .333 average. The N.L.'s Most Valuable Player still is plagued by a sore side he suffered during the exhibition grind.

"If the day off (today) doesn't help," Schoendienst said, "I'll probably use Ed Spiezio at third. If a player can't give 100 per cent physically, he's best on the bench until he's healthy."

In other N.L. games yesterday, San Francisco edged Pittsburgh 3-2, Los Angeles whipped New York 5-1, Houston walloped Philadelphia 11-4 and Cincinnati drubbed Chicago 9-2.

Purkey limited the Braves to two hits, one of them Ed Mathews' fourth-inning home run, until the ninth inning when Milwaukee bunched four singles for two runs. Bill White and Lou Brock homered for St. Louis.

Don Drysdale, with relief help from Bob Miller, earned his 11th straight victory over the Mets. Miller came on in the eighth after Drysdale had walked a total of seven batters. Wes Parker's run-scoring single broke a 1-1 tie and helped the Dodgers post three runs in the seventh inning.

Philadelphia's Chris Short was on the way toward his third straight victory until Houston erupted for four runs in the eighth inning and five more in the ninth. Jim Beauchamp singled across two runs in the eighth while Al Spangler capped the ninth-inning outburst with a two-run single.

Joey Jay, making his first start of the season, set Chicago down on four hits, including Ron Santo's fourth homer, a two-run shot in the fourth. The Reds, meanwhile, battered Larry Jackson and three relievers for 14 hits. Pete Rose and Gordy Coleman homered for Cincinnati.

DRAKE EDGES MARIN CATHOLIC

Marin Catholic control problems and Tom Manahan's bases loaded triple proved to be the difference yesterday as Drake whipped the Wildcats 5-3 in Marin Athletic League action in San Anselmo.

The Pirates of Drake scored all five of their runs in the bottom of the third inning, totaling one (1) hit. But it sure was a key blow.

It went this way: Marin Catholic pitcher Ben Burch walked Al Simontacchi to open the inning, then Gary Kerch got on base on an error. Mike Miller walked, loading the bases. Now in a jam, Burch walked Will Curley, forcing in a run. Then Manahan, the Drake leftfielder, waited out for a 3 and 2 count, fouled off about 10 pitches, then smacked a long triple between the left and center fielders, banging in three runs. That was all for Burch.

His reliever, Bob King, struck out the side the hard way. He whiffed Russ Damos and Bob Tobin, then couldn't find the plate and walked Don Humphrey and Bill Ingram, filling the bags again. He hit Simontacchi with a pitch to allow the fifth run of the inning to score. With bases still loaded, he struck out Kerch to end the inning.

The Wildcats rallied for three runs in the top of the seventh frame, Bill Shine knocking in two runs with a single and George King knocking in the other run with a one-bagger. Then with one out and two runners on, shortstop Bob Lombardi hit a long fly to deep rightfield which was caught by Curley. A ground out ended the inning, and the game.

Kerch, the winning pitcher for Drake, went all the way on the mound, giving up a total of 8 hits.

Russian Cagers Upset U.S.

SEATTLE (UPI)—Russia's touring national basketball team whipped the U.S. All-Star quintet 70-62 last night to even their series at one game each. They clash again tomorrow night at San Francisco's Civic Auditorium, 8 o'clock.

The Americans hit a cold streak in the early going and the tight-checking Russians never let them catch up.

Yaak Lipso, a 6-7 Red Army soldier, provided the two quick baskets that crushed back one American challenge in the second half and a pair of free throws by Gennadi Volnov, veteran of Russia's Olympic team, checked another.

Vern Benson of Miami University of Ohio, scoring in flurries, led the Americans with 16 points.

Lakers Buoyed By Win Over Celtics

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "It's anybody's playoff now," said a jubilant Fred Schaus after his Los Angeles Lakers romped to a 126-105 win over the Boston Celtics last night in the National Basketball Association playoffs.

"We have a good chance to win Friday night and then it's just a best - of - three series," Schaus continued. The win cut Boston's lead to 2-1, and the Lakers will enjoy the home court advantage again Friday.

If the series goes seven games, two of the final three will be played in Boston, but Schaus said, "We knew from the beginning we had to win in Boston anyway. We feel we have momentum going for us now."

The Lakers' Jerry West, continuing his better than 40-point per game average in the playoffs, hit for 43. Leroy Ellis contributed 29, and Gene Wiley grabbed 28 rebounds and made several fine defensive plays to go with his 11 points.

"We were expecting a letdown in the second game, but instead it came in the third," Auerbach said. "I knew in the first three minutes that we were off form, and nothing went right.

After a 142-110 humiliation and a 129-123 loss in Boston, the victory proved to the Lakers that they can beat the Celtics without Elgin Baylor, one of their two leading scorers.

Los Angeles lost Baylor for the playoffs when he injured his knee in the opening western division playoff game against Baltimore. He is currently recuperating from a knee operation.

Dominating the boards, 90-60, the Lakers were able to play their running game and led from the first period. They went ahead 35-17 in the opening quarter, led 68-48 at the half and 92-74 at the end of the third period.

'DADDY WAGS' ON A RAMPAGE FOR CLEVELAND

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Everything looks just fine to Leon Wagner, who is wearing contact lenses to improve his vision despite assurances from American League pitchers that there was nothing wrong with it in the first place.

The Cleveland slugger they call Daddy Wags zeroed in on the Los Angeles Angels yesterday unloading two home runs, the second one leading off the 10th inning, as the Indians pulled out a 6-5 victory.

The homers were his second and third of the young season and hiked his batting average to a hefty .368, so his contact lenses can't be hurting.

"I can see the ball better," says Wagner. "I don't know whether they're going to help me hit more homers though."

The contacts may not help Wagner's homer production but Daddy Wags thinks Rocky Colavito will. The Rock, returning to Cleveland after five years, treated the 44,385 fans — largest opening day crowd in the majors this year — with a two-run homer.

"They'll have to pitch to me more," Wagner said after punishing the Angels. "They don't want to see Rocky up at the plate and I don't blame those pitchers. Yes, sir, it's a real pleasure to hit in front of him."

Wagner broke up the game leading off against Ron Piche in the 10th after first the Angels and then the Indians rallied in the ninth. Cleveland was leading 4-2 — on homers by Colavito and Wagner — when Los Angeles pushed across three runs in the ninth for a 5-4 edge.

Cleveland tied it with a run in the bottom half and Piche bailed the Angels out of a bases-loaded, one out jam before serving the gopher to Daddy Wags in the 10th.

KOOKIE WAMPUM DAY AT INDIAN VALLEY GOLF COURSE

It looked more like a costume ball at the Indian Valley golf course Tuesday in Novato, but it was the women of the Indian Valley Golf Club laughing it up in a "Kookie Wampum Tournament." Rules were set out at each hole, ranging from arrow shooting from the first tee to putting with a croquet mallet. In the picture upper left, (from left) Mrs. Anthony Bacich, Mrs. Roy Enos and Mrs. Lynn Sumpter get set to "tee off" from the first tee. In the middle photo, Mrs. William Sparrow is well equipped to get out of that water hazard, while (from left) Mrs. Ernest Korn and Mrs. Ken Roberts watch. Mrs. Roberts won second prize for that clown outfit and Mrs. Korn won third for that ballerina costume. In the photo at right, Mrs. Wallace Jones tries to sink a putt the hard way to the delight of Mrs. Roger Williams and Mrs. Phil Ogle.

ALBANY (AP) — Joe Baze, the jockey who has earned a lot of money for bettors who place their cash on the best rider, has been suspended for five days by Golden Gate Fields stewards.

Baze, who returned to the saddle this season after forced retirement for 10 years, is the leading rider by a wide margin at the current GGF meet.

Stewards ordered him grounded yesterday after finding him guilty of causing interference shortly after the start of the first race Tuesday. He was riding Jupiter's Star.

Henry Moreno, the eighth place rider in the Albany track standings, also was grounded for five days. He was charged with careless riding in the same race, atop Cis.

Baze is a favorite among gamblers who rely on the top jockey to win to hold his top billing. He has brought in 38 winners during the 33 days of racing this season.

Daddy Wags Seeing Better, Slams 2 Homers For Tribe

City 1-0, Chicago topped Boston 3-1 in 11 innings, Minnesota ripped New York 7-2 and Baltimore nipped Washington 3-2 in 11 innings.

Wagner, who rocketed 31 home runs out of American League parks last year, says Colavito's presence ought to help him hike his total by eight, maybe 10. "I almost would feel bad about hitting those home runs if Rocky doesn't get one too," said Wagner. Daddy Wags didn't have to worry about Colavito yesterday.

The White Sox and the Red Sox each pushed across a run in the first inning with sluggers Pete Ward and Frank Malzone laying down bunts. Then Boston's Bill Monbouquette and Chicago's John Buzhardt dueled into the 10th before Moose Skowron's two-run homer broke it up.

Ward squeezed home Danny Cater with the White Sox' first run and then the Chicago third baseman was caught napping by Malzone, whose drag bunt helped set up Boston's run.

Tony Oliva, Rich Rollins and Jimmie Hall each hit two-run homers as the Twins spoiled the Yankees' home opener. Camilo Pascual and Gerry Fosnow combined to pitch the eight-hitter with Mickey Mantle's 457th career homer producing both New York runs.

The Tigers managed only three hits but Don Demeter's two-out double in the fourth produced the game's only run as Hank Aguirre and Larry Sherry stifled Kansas City.

Sherry came on in the eighth and made a diving stop of Tom Reynolds' grounder before throwing him out with runners on second and third, ending the A's last threat.

Portland Nears Title In Western Hocky Playoff

VICTORIA, B. C. (AP) —The Portland Buckaroos stood only one game away today from their second Lester Patrick Cup, emblematic of the Western Hockey League championship.

The Bucks, who first won the cup in 1961, downed Victoria's injury - riddle Maple Leafs 3-2 last night to take a 3-1 lead in their best - of - seven playoff series.

The Leafs, with regular goalie Al Millar still out with a back injury, fought back to score both of their markers in the third period. Steve Witiuk tallied with 7:14 gone to rob Portland netminder Don Head of a shutout.

Portland took a 2-0 lead in the first period on goals by Cliff Schmautz and Larry Leach. Pat Stapleton drove home the winning goal early in the second period.

Interior Department Scientist Writes On Farming Of The Sea

STEVENS

I have just received a letter from V. L. Loosanoff, senior scientist at the Biological Laboratory, Department of the Interior at Tiburon, reading: "Dear Mr. Stevens: In looking over some of your remarks I notice that you, in addition to recreational fisheries, are also interested in conservation and in various possibilities of utlization of salt-water basins for productions of different aquatic forms.

"I am enclosing one of my recent articles that deals with these issues and hope that some parts of my discussion may be of interest to you."

I MOST CERTAINLY am interested in the entire article but space prevents me from mentioning to my readers more than "some" of it.

As you all know, there has been a great deal said and written about the "population explosion" and the dire possibility of there not being enough food grown on all lands of the world to sustain life for the world's peoples. Mr. Loosanoff presents a forceful article on a possible solution to this pessimistic outlook. It is contained in the title of his article, "MARICULTURE: The Farming of the Sea."

Mr. Loosanoff calls attention to the fact that by the year 2,000 there will be between five and six billion persons to feed. That, combined with the slow but steady decline in agricultural lands, is not a very promising outlook, is it?

MANY PERSONS have scoffed at the danger of less food for more people, saying in effect: "There's nothing to worry about. When the land can no longer supply enough food, we can always turn to the sea." Is isn't, however, as easy as that. As regards the fish in the sea, we all know how short a time it takes to deplete the supply in any given area. Many of us can recall the days when the supply of sardines for sport fishing seemed unlimited, yet it took only a few short years to almost exterminate the sardine from the local waters.

Mr. Loosanoff stresses the fact that it is not only fish that should make up the aquatic crop, but many other forms of life—algae, and other species of plant life; mollusks — oysters, clams, abalones and snails. Crustaceans — lobsters, crabs, shrimps could also be raised in protected waters.

"THERE IS really nothing new in the idea of mariculture. Mcre than 2,000 years ago Romans, Chinese and probably other peoples attempted to cultivate sea forms by growing them under more or less controlled conditions.

Mr. Loosanoff devotes a large portion of his article to the place of importance that algae occupies in the scheme of things. He even suggests that certain species of algae might be "home grown." He says: "Theoretically, the algae growing basins can be easily excavated by bulldozers. Their approximate depth should be about 3 feet. To prevent seepage of water from the ponds, the bottom can be covered with a layer or layers of thin plastic which are in turn, covered by several inches of soil. In parts of the world where sunlight is too intense the ponds may be shaded by cheap material, such as cheesecloth. Mechanical agitation of the water and the addition of carbon dioxide and specifically formulated fertilizers are prerequisites for success."

IN CONCLUSION, Mr. Loosanoff says in part: "We may summarize our discussion by saying that mariculture is still in its infancy, especially in its intertidal and estuarine aspects. This is true regardless of efforts initiated many centuries ago to cultivate salt water forms such as oysters and clams."

As I stated at the beginning, lack of space prevents my setting down the full article, and I trust none of my readers will hire a bulldozer and dig a pond in his back yard to raise algae. If, however, you are so inclined, remember there are a great many different species of algae, and any experiment should be with the more desirable species. I have an idea that Mr. Loosanoff will be happy to answer a letter requesting further information on the subject. Drop him a line at the U. S. Bureau of Commercial Fisheries, Tiburon.

Ken Venturi Sidelined At Least Five Weeks

ROCHESTER, Minn. (AP) — Golfer Ken Venturi said yesterday he will be out of action at least five weeks while taking medication for treatment of a circulatory condition.

Venturi, who has complained of numbness in his hands, said Mayo Clinic doctors told him it was due to constriction of the small arteries in his hands.

Doctors said the condition may be associated with repeated occupational trauma in people who use tools which require a squeezing or grasping action of the hands. Doctors said no evidence of arterial disease was found elsewhere.

Venturi said that if the condition doesn't react properly to medication an operation will be necessary. He said he plans to leave for his home in Hillsborough, Calif.

Drake's Stein Loses Toe In Mower Mishap

Larry Stein, all-around athlete at Drake High School, will be sidelined the remainder of the spring sport's season because of an off the field mishap.

Stein, top broad jumper on the Pirates track and field team, lost the second toe on his right foot in a power mower accident last week. In addition to track and field, Stein was all-league end for two seasons in football and starting forward on the Drake basketball team.

Indications were that the loss of the toe, although sidelining him for the rest of the track season, would have no bearing on his future in sports.

Softball Team After Pitchers

Class AAA softball pitchers are invited to attend the opening practice for Sohner Tree Service softball team at 10 a.m. Sunday at San Anselmo's Memorial Park. Any experienced pitcher who is interested in hurling for the Treemen but who cannot attend the Sunday practice, may call Ken Cuneo, 65 Rollingwood Drive, San Rafael.

Agrees To Play

GOVERNOR HAS A BIRTHDAY

In Sacramento, Gov. Edmund G. Brown puffs on a cigar, after finishing a lunch given by his staff yesterday in honor of his sixtieth birthday. Later, he flew to Los Angeles, where another birthday fete was held at the Coconut Grove, and he had to puff thrice to extinguish the three-score candles on a birthday cake. (AP Wirephoto)

Sacramento Splits On College Pay

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The legislature has before it today conflicting recommendations on how much to pay faculty members at the state colleges and University of California.

Two major proposals were disclosed yesterday.

One, by Gov. Brown, would raise university faculty pay by 8.5 per cent in the next year. Brown previously had called for a 5 per cent pay boost.

"A new survey of faculty salaries across the nation shows that this increase is needed to maintain the high quality of the faculty of our university," the governor explained.

He advocated $7.7 million for a 7.5 per cent pay boost for everyone, and another $1 million for individual salary raises.

At the same time, Sen. Albert S. Rodda, D-Sacramento, introduced legislation to give professors at the 18 state college campuses a 15.8 per cent pay hike. It would cost $15.4 million.

The Rodda measure is backed by state college trustees, but is in direct conflict with the governor's proposal for a 10 per cent pay raise. He had raised it to that from 5 per cent, but the professors say that even 10 per cent isn't enough to fill many vacant faculty positions.

Sausalito Faculty Plans Crab Feed

Sausalito School District teachers, administrative staff and non-teaching personnel will hold the 12th annual kick-off dinner Monday at Richardson Bay School cafeteria honoring Public Schools Week.

The traditional crab feed will start at 6:30 p.m. Theme of the event this year is "Build a Better America: Support Our Public Schools."

The school board is to meet at 8:30 p.m. at the district office.

Strikebreaking Ban Advances In Committee

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Assembly Industrial Relations Committee yesterday cleared a bill making strikebreaking a criminal act.

The bill was approved by a vote of 5-4. It defines a strikebreaker as one who within a five year period takes three jobs during strikes.

Opponents of the bill argued that it denied the right of an employer to hire anyone he wishes and that it discriminated against non-union labor.

Ben Martin, general manager of the California Newspaper Publishers Association said to the small newspaper, the bill would mean "pay up or shut down."

Boone Kin Dies

EL CAJON (AP)—Fred Boone, 81, said to be a great great grandson of frontiersman Daniel Boone, died Tuesday.

Competing Bill Filed On Welfare Expenses

SACRAMENTO (AP)—County taxpayers are offered $25.7 million in relief from rising welfare costs in the legislature's latest plan to ease the property owners' tax burden.

The measure, introduced yesterday by Sen. James A. Cobey, D-Merced, is the County Supervisors Assn. plan to equalize the welfare burden throughout the state.

The bill would require the state to pump the additional money into county treasuries, boosting the state's share of local welfare costs to 29.5 per cent.

At present, the state and county share of local welfare costs is split in varying proportions. Large amounts of federal money also are used to finance welfare.

Gov. Brown's proposed budget for next year calls for state welfare expenditures of $450 million plus $522 million in federal money, along with still-to-be determined county expenditures.

"We call this the unfinished business of 1963," said William R. MacDougall, general counsel for the supervisors association.

In that year, the legislature passed a series of welfare reforms recommended by a governor's study commission, but neglected to offer the counties financial relief.

MacDougall said the new state aid would be financed by property tax reforms proposed by the governor.

"The governor's bills do one third of the job," he said. "This bill does it all."

Training Test

A training exercise called "Modoc 4" for the 84th Fighter Interceptor Squadron at Hamilton Air Force Base brought increased air activity to Marin County today.

Rightists Picket Schlesinger Talk

FRESNO (AP)—Historian and former presidential adviser Arthur Schlesinger Jr. was picketed by about 30 persons last night when he appeared at Memorial Auditorium to speak on foreign policy.

A local John Birch Society section leader, James W. Scott, said he was the nominal leader of the group.

Schlesinger, who was a friend and adviser to President John F. Kennedy and later to President Johnson, was accused by the demonstrators of being anti-business and pro-socialist.

THE SUBURBAN SCENE

Many To Board On Saturday For Boat Trip To Ball Park

By MOLLY MARIN

Saturday is the big day for members of the Sunny Hills Junior Auxiliary's boat trip to see the Giants play at Candlestick Park. The boat will leave The Dock in Tiburon at noon. Joining the Warren Perrys for the day and a post game buffet supper at the San Anselmo home will be Messrs. and Mesdames Ned Ward, R. W. Pendergrass, Jay R. McMahon, James McKenney and Paul Atkins.

THE STEWART Harrisons will join the John Hales and the John Balls. Sue and Peter Phelps will be with the Elmer Albrittons for the trip. Barbara and George Fernbacher have asked the Douglas Hellers from Atherton to join them again this year, along with Mr. and Mrs. Neville Rich Jr. of San Francisco, and the Thomas Glickbargs of Kentfield.

Dale and Dick Sims of Belvedere are again getting together on the baseball-boat trip with the Edwin Weeds and Ralph Noahs. Each member of the party will provide a course for a gourmet hamper luncheon.

PAT AND KIMBALL PALM will also be on board and have asked the Leonard Flieshmans of Belvedere, and Pat and Jim Skinner of Kentfield to their new Belvedere home for supper after the game.

A large group of Marin Giant rooters who will be sitting together at the game are Messrs. and Mesdames Thomas Jones, Vernon Norris, David Shippey, Horace Hill, Purn Vorhees, Dean Solinsky, Robert Dougherty, Guido Girolami, Peter Ostrander, to come from Santa Rosa for the day, and Dr. and Mrs. Skip Way.

ONE HUNDRED guests have been invited by Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Francis to a champagne boat party at their home in San Rafael on Sunday afternoon. Highlight of the afternoon will be their new cruiser "Fortune Hunter" which will be docked at their home on the San Rafael Canal.

MRS. ROSE JORGENSON was honored on her 80th birthday Sunday at a surprise buffet at the home of her son and family, the Lester Jorgensons of Mill Valley. Guests included the Julius Bajones, Robert Beltons, Don Bennetts, Herb Buffams, Mike Chircos, Hans Roemers, Roy Senders and Gail and Norma Lane.

AMONG NEW residents of Peacock Gap are the Robert Radfords, formerly of Belvedere. The Radfords have two children, Mari and Warren.

THE ABEL DE HAANS Jr. of Terra Linda will be off on May 12 for a month-long tour of Europe and in Vienna Mr. DeHaan will deliver two papers to the International Atomic Energy Assn. The couple will fly to London and travel on to Holland, Switzerland, Belgium and then Vienna, after which they will spend some time on the Italian Riviera. Their three children will be at home with their grandparents, who are coming from Sacramento to stay.

On May 8 the DeHaans will be honored at a small dinner party given by Mrs. Helen N. Rideout at her home in Sleepy Hollow. Her guests will include Messrs. and Mesdames Oliver Hendrick and Wayne Smith of Sacramento, Dr. and Mrs. Eugene Roddenbury of Pacific Palisades and Col. William Beaudray, who has just returned from Europe, where he has been with the diplomatic service.

New Outdoor Field Trip Unit Formed For Mothers, Children

Outdoor education field trips for mothers and pre-school children, which are sponsored by the Boyd Science Museum of Marin, have become so popular that another unit has been formed.

The original one led by Elizabeth Terwilliger of Mill Valley consists of 20 mothers and their children who go on these treks Wednesdays from 9:30 a.m. to noon.

The new one, also led by Mrs. Terwilliger and consisting of 20 mothers and their children, meets on Tuesdays from 9:30 a.m. to noon.

Both run for a six-weeks period. Mothers bring a mid-morning snack and frequently a picnic lunch to allow plenty of time for exploring afterward if they have the time. Later entire families may be brought to the places visited.

"OUTDOOR EDUCATION begun in the pre-school years," says Mrs. Terwilliger, "teaches the children identification of plant and wildlife as well as conservation. This in turn can become a family learning experience."

The first trip is to the Boyd Museum, where the habitat scenes show close up some of the things, such as bird and animal life, that may be found on the following trips.

Five familiar bird calls are learned and bird flight patterns demonstrated and imitated.

FIVE NATIVE POISONOUS things are discussed and identified, including poison oak, rattlesnakes, black widow spiders, poison mushrooms and poison hemlock, as well as the nettle that stings like a bee.

Each child and mother is also taught what non-poisonous snakes are beneficial because they preserve the balance of nature.

Equipped with this knowledge, the group proceeds to Fort Cronkhite vicinity. On the beach tiny carnellian stones and other fascinating pebbles and shells are found that delight the children, as well as "treasures" in the flotsam and jetsam left by the tides.

A WALK TO THE lighthouse from the parking lot is an exciting experience, as the sea is so far below on each side that pelicans and seagulls fly by at eye level. The walk through the tunnel is also an adventure, and the swinging motion of the bridge suspended over turbulent waves is a challenge to try, says Mrs. Terwilliger.

On a trip to the Richardson Bay wildlife refuge the children play games, personifying the animals and learning about the kinds of "houses" they live in.

Open grassland is next visited, where the redtailed hawk is pointed out as not to be killed, since he too maintains the balance of nature, and careful instructions are given about not picking wild flowers.

"Plant your own," they are advised. "Then you can pick as many as you want."

A WOODLAND HABITAT with a stream is next on the itinerary, where the habits of fish and other water creatures and squirrels are observed. The children have fun gathering the minute pine-like cones of the alder and the oval nuts of the bay.

At the civic Center lagoon centers of attention are tree frogs, coots—"the only all-black ducks with white bills" redwing blackbirds, blue belly lizards and snowy egrets, and even the lowly grasshopper is noted.

The value of the program, Mrs. Terwilliger points out, is that "the world around is so fascinating that by using all our senses we increase our awareness, knowledge, experience and our lives."

Miriam Austin's booklet, "Out of Doors in Marin," obtainable in some local book stores, is recommended as an aid in learning about the county.

Section Hostess

The social service section of the Corona Club of San Francisco will be guests of Mrs. J. J. Rutkowski at her home in Tiburon on May 3 at 11 a.m. The hostess is program chairman for the club.

Academy To Mark Diamond Jubilee

San Rafael Military Academy will celebrate its Diamond Jubilee the weekend of May 1 with a party on Saturday and brunch on Sunday.

A buffet dinner party with dancing at Dominic's Harbor Restaurant is planned on Saturday beginning with cocktails at 7 p.m.

The Diamond Jubilee Committee and the Alumni Assn. are sponsoring the event which will benefit the Scholarship Endowment Fund. Serving on the committee with chairman Mrs. Howard Good are Dr. Sumner Walters, academy headmaster; Carl Clark, president of the Alumni Assn.; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dietrich, L. W. Robertson, Howard Goood, Mrs. Angus Dun and Mrs. Charles Pollock.

An Alumni Day Brunch will be held at 11 p.m. on Sunday at Dominic's Restaurant with a parade at 2:15 and program on the school campus.

Rebekahs To Hold Luncheon, Bazaar

Luncheon will be served from 11 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. Committee members for the day and evening will be Mesdames Ada Earwood, E. W. Ruhl, Alex Walker, Chester Hunter, Mabel Carlson and Charles Peterson.

MR. AND MRS. RICHARD M. RISTINE

Iona Lee Schulze Bride Of Richard Ristine Of Tiburon

Iona Lee Schulze, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil C. Schulze of Larkspur, became the bride of Richard Michael Ristine of Tiburon at 4:30 p.m. on April 8 at Park Wedding Chapel, Reno.

The Rev. Warrern D. Ward performed the double ring ceremony in which Marci M. Miller of Larkspur was maid of honor and Albert R. Anderson of Tiburon acted as best man.

Both bride and bridegroom attended Redwood High School. Iona attended College of Marin and is employed at Pacific Telegraph and Telephone Co. in San Rafael. She is the sister of Jo Ann and William A. Schulze of Larkspur.

Richard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul M. Ristine of Tiburon. He attended Page High School in Arizona and is in medical training with the U.S. Air Force at Gunter Air Force Base, Alabama.

The couple will make their home in San Anselemo.

Pi Beta Phi Plans Founders Luncheon

Marin Alumnae of Pi Beta Phi will hold their founders day luncheon on Tueseday at noon at the Alta Mira Hotel in Sausalito. This year will mark the 98th anniversary of the founding of the national sorority at Monmouth College.

Mrs. Dean H. Brokaw of Terra Linda will officiate at the installation of officers, who are Mesdames John R. Bruning, president; J. G. Herrmann, vice president; James C. Scripture, recording secretary; Robert L. Pohl, corresponding secretary, and R. L. Tulipani, treasurer.

Reservations chairman is Mrs. William C. Hagens.

Mill Valley Branch AAUW To Hold Annual Meeting

The Peacock Gap Country Club will be the setting Tuesday for the annual business meeting of the Mill Valley branch of the American Assn. of University Women.

Following luncheon at 12:30 p.m. for branch members only program chairman Mrs. Charles A. Murphy has arranged a musical program.

President Mrs. Edward J. Boessenecker will conduct the meeeting highlighted by election of officers and reports from study group and standing committee chairmen. She will conclude her second term as branch president on June 30.

Special reports will be made by the bylaws committee regarding proposed amendments and by Mrs. Ross Shade, fellowships program chairman.

Mrs. Murphy will accompany soprano Marjorie Broughton on the piano while branch member Mrs. David B. Symonds will be the cellist. The program will include some Italian songs and selections by Brahms and Ravel.

Sausalito Group To Mark Library Week With Events

Sausalito Friends of the Library will join in the nationwide celebration of National Library Week beginning Sunday and running through May 1.

Among the week's events will be a talk Tuesday at 12:40 p.m. when Miss Joy De Weese Wehen will talk to Mrs. Helen G. Shippey's fourth graders from Bayside School. Miss Wehen's book, "The Silver Cricket," has been chosen as a book of the month by the Junior Literary Guild.

A followup program will be presented by Richard Dillon, author and lecturer at the Sausalito Woman's Club May 6, at 8:30 p.m.

YW Y-Nots To Sell Breads, Bargains

The YW Y-Nots Club will hold a "Breads and Bargains" sale at Hil Probert Motors in Larkspur on April 30 from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. and May 1 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Home baked goods, handmade articles and rummage will be offered for sale and proceeds will benefit the club's service projects.

LUNCHEON IN STYLE

A dessert-bridge and fashion showing drew applause for the spring and summer styles, as shown here by model Mrs. Luciano Sabella when the Guild of St. Sylvester's Church gathered at Peacock Gap Country Club yesterday. Mrs. Victor Scatena was chairman for the benefit for the parish building fund.

Family Activities Occupy President

Family activities and recreation occupy most of the time of Mrs. Thomas Blair, new president of the Alto Parent-Teacher Assn.

A member seven years, she served several years as a room mother and the past two years as hot dog chairman.

She and her husband, who is manager of a tire company, have lived in Marin seven years and have three children: Robert, 13; Vicki, 11, and Tommie Jean, 8.

MRS. THOMAS BLAIR

Born in Laramie, Wyo., Roberta was reared in Arkansas and was graduated from high school in Marshall, Ark. She worked as a Girl Friday in several offices until her first child was born.

She enjoys plays, reading and television.

Engagement Is Told At Open House

An open house given by Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Evans in Bolinas was the occasion for the announcement of the engagement of Elizabeth Crichton Miller of Piedmont and Peter Alston Evans of Marysville.

Elizabeth, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Durbin Miller, is a kindergarten teacher at Yolansdale School in San Anselmo. She was graduated from University of California and attended Graduate School at California State College in Hayward.

Mrs. Maud L. Galt of Oakland is her grandmothere.

The future bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Evan C. Evans of San Francisco and the late Mr. Evans and the brother of Dr. Evan C. Evans III and Hugh W. Evans of Berkeley and Mrs. James B. Erlich of Alexandria, Va.

Peter was graduated from University of California with bachelor of art and science degrees and from San Francisco State College with a master of art degree.

William Lappes Jr. Leaders Of Miller Creek School Group

A new organization in the Lucas Valley-Marinwood area has had as its leaders in its first year new residents Mr. and Mrs. William J. Lappe Jr. When Miller Creek School, a junior high, opened its doors last fall the parent-teacher group was organized by the Lappes who had just arrived from Dallas.

One of the biggest projects was instigating plans for landscaping the schoolgrounds.

Mr. Lappe is office manager and assistant vice president of a nationwide firm dealing with service for attorneys. He and Barbara, both native Pennsylvanians, have three children, Bill, 12, Ellen, 9, and George, 5.

The family enthusiasms include collecting and refurnishing of antiques, jeep-riding in the hills, and cooking.

Serving with them are Messrs. and Mesdames Ross Tibbles, vice president; Robert K. McCue, secretary; Richard J. Milward, treasurer; Robert J. Mahoney, coordinating council representatives; Howard Council, ways and means; and Mesdames Pedersen, landscaping; Robert Lynn, hospitality; N. P. Frazzini, membership; H. W. Evans, saftey and health; James L. Collins, clerical pool; James J. Carlisle, council of music and arts, and Terence J. Grew, publicity.

Volunteers Are Awarded Service Pins

Marin General Hospital Pink Ladies put in a busy month of March at the hospital, totaling 3,997 hours of service, with one member—Mrs. Russel Chatham of San Anselmo—earning a service pin for an accumulative total of 6,200 hours of volunteer work.

Mrs. Thomas Pring, San Anselmo, was presented with a pin for 3900 hours, while Bernardine Connair, Larkspur, received hers for 3,300 hours. Jane H. Adams, San Anselmo, and Mrs. E. Emerson Cooper, Tiburon, both earned 3,200-hour pins, and Mrs. Fred Voigts, Mill Valley, received one for 3,100 hours.

Mrs. Hans Fischel, San Anselmo, received a pin for 2,500 hours of volunteer service and 1,400-hour pins were presented to Mrs. Julian Berger, San Rafael, and Mrs. Albert Giusti, Kentfield.

For 24-hours of volunteer service at Marin General, pins were presented to Carole DeMartini, Mrs. Kenneth Homen, and Lynn Staub, Mill Valley; Mrs. William Gaffney and Mrs. Harry Matthews, Tiburon; Eileen O'Connell, Mrs. John Gallo and Carolyn Smith, Kentfield; and Mrs. Don Urquhart, San Rafael.

Mill Valleyan Reports On National School Situation

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

"We are very smug about our schools in Marin County and California," said Mrs. Edmond Gross, just elected for a second term as a member of the Mill Valley School District Board of Education.

This was one of her impressions resulting from her experiences as a delegate to the recent National School Board Assn. convention in Boston and from visiting a number of schools in the East before returning to Mill Valley.

Because of the highly controversial unification problem in Marin Mrs. Gross said she was interested to find that the same situation was being faced elsewhere in the country.

"IN HARTSDALE, N. Y., where I visited Ethelee Reed—you remember she and her husband David formerly taught in Mill Valley schools—" she said, "the question comes up so often that they call it 'Spring Madness.'

"I have come to the conclusion that original reluctance of communities to unify is not the significant thing. What is important is that if school boards, school administrators and teachers recognize the problem and are determined to find answers, they will be found.

"I was impressed by New York's plan for dealing with a large district. They broke down their enormous city district into 26 boroughs, each of which has a local school board appointed by the overall board. This answers the criticism against unification that it leads to the loss of local interest, involvement and control.

"Even though the proposed Tamalpais District could never be this large, something like this plan might be followed," she suggested.

MRS. GROSS WENT on to say that she agreed with Dr. Roy Menninger, director of the Division of School Mental Health and manager of the Menninger Foundation at Topeka, Kan., who said, "We are a nation of people who want the answers. Anyone who has an answer is an expert to the point that we are not allowing people to say there are various solutions or that there is no one answer."

"Marin County is no exception in this respect," he said, "but just to say this is not enough. Something must be done to find the answers."

"He said that if as much money could be spent in the first and second grades as is being spent in vocational education in high schools and if class size could be brought down to 10, there would be a revolution in education.

"The reason for this is that basic reading habits are formed in these grades which are the foundation of education. They have found that juvenile delinquents and dropouts are poor readers and that children are likely to be mentally disturbed if they cannot read.

"As Cowles said, 'We will have to act with the determination that surpasses our determination to get to the moon . . . It will cost $5,000,000,000 to prevent 5,000,000 dropouts, but this would be money well spent."

MRS. GROSS continued with a report on her observations in schools she visited.

She noted that there seems to be a trend in most districts to the middle school—that is, the school consisting of fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades, and said she believed this was good, since the ninth graders are beginning to be concerned with college.

SCHOOL PLANTS too were a revelation, she remarked.

"One of the reasons they are able to afford these facilities," she explained, "is that they incorporate recreation facilities for the entire community."

Mill Valley Group Will Host Dancers

The Mill Valley Creative Dance Group will host a gathering for technique and ballet students from first grade up on Saturday, starting at 10 a.m. in the College of Marin gymnasium.

Dance students from 16 creative dance groups in the Bay Area will come from as far away as Napa and San Jose.

AT A FAMILY DINNER Mr. and Mrs. George B. Geramoni of Ross announced the engagement of their daughter, Cecille, to Michael James Gannon, the son of Mrs. Michael J. Gannon of San Anselmo and the late Mr. Gannon. Wedding plans are indefinite.

KATHYMARIE JONES

Kathymarie Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth E. Jones of Novato was chosen as grand confidential observer at the 35th annual session of Grand Assembly of California, International Order of Rainbow for Girls. The session was held April 11 to 14 at Sacramento.

Kathymarie is the first grand floor officer chosen from the Novato Assembly No. 194. She is the sister of Kasey and Kanani Jones and the granddaughter of Mrs. Marie Tubb, past matron of Novato Order of Eastern Star No. 609.

LONG-TIME WORKERS

Two Quentin Employees Will Retire This Week

San Quentin Prison will retire two longtime employees at the end of the month, Associate Warden James W. L. Park announced recently.

They are: Mrs. Helen Garland, 58, of 69 Wood Lane, Fairfax, a typist clerk with the prison for 14 years, and Harold Ross Moag, 70, a prison resident with 17 years service, now employed as assistant to the correctional industries manager.

Mrs. Garland, who was born in Nevada but has lived in California 54 years, managed the Fairfax Pet Shop in 1949. She says she has no particular retirement plans except "to do some fishing."

Moag, a resident of Marin since 1948, was born in Toledo, Ohio. As an employee of the prison's department of public works, Moag is given credit as being instrumental in the build- of the cotton textile mill. He later became involved with the operation of the plant.

On retiring, he and his wife, Velma, plan to move to Walnut Creek, then take a trip through Canada in their camper.

Novato High School Has New Courses

Several new courses for next year at Novato High School were announced today by principal Robert Wisgerhof.

Offered for the first time will be girls' and boys' glee clubs, earth science, welding, and a first year foods course.

Legion Plans Installation

Fred A. Rapp, 20 Madera Boulevard, Corte Madera, will be installed May 4 as commander of the American Legion's Twin Cities Post 313, succeeding Winfield Wagner, who will become post chaplain.

Joining Rapp as first vice commander will be Louis W. Angleman. Charles R. Young will become second vice commander, the job held by Rapp during the past year.

Other new officers to be installed are: Kenneth E. Chaney, adjutant; Roscoe Small, finance officer, Francis M. Fugate, historian, William Wagner, judge advocate, Elmer R. Murray, sergeant at arms, and Oakley W. Dexter, Louis Schmitt and William E. Penney, directors.

WUNDA-LOOM CARPETS
Famous Wunda Weve's Finest Quality, Deepest Textured Broadloom

Now you can achieve the deep, plushy elegance on your floors you've always wanted, at SPRING SALE SAVINGS, with one of the most durable, lastingly lovely carpets you've ever seen. Made of Nature's own Miracle Fibre, 100% loom woven cotton, woven to perfection by Wunda Weve.

HOW LONG WILL IT WEAR?
The picture below should give you some idea. Installed in 1957 in some of the locker rooms of a Bay Area Golf Club, this carpet is still in use after eight years. You'll never give carpet in your home this kind of treatment. Yes . . . Wunda Weve can "take it."

YOU CAN FEEL AND SEE THE LAVISH LUXURY WUNDA LOOM WILL ADD TO YOUR HOME
Just take a hold of a handful of this marvelously thick, lusciously textured carpet. One "feel" of this lavishly plush carpet will convince you of its superior quality. Elegance under foot like no other carpet you've ever walked on . . . permanently glorifies your home. Imagine how glamorous your rooms can be with wall-to-wall carpet as rich looking as this . . . and at a savings of $4.00 per yard.

WILL IT SHRINK . . OR FADE?
Like all Wunda Weve's 100% cotton carpets, Wunda Loom is completely loom woven, not just tufted . . . it's pre-shrunk at the mill . . . it can't shrink, and it's "raw stock dyed" with the finest vat dyes made. Holds its color better than any floor covering we know.

HOW DO YOU CLEAN IT?
Ordinary, normal vacuuming, like any other carpet keeps its refreshing casual texture looking its best . . . as for spills . . . just wash them out with a mild detergent, or ivory soap suds . . . let it dry . . . and brush it briskly. Keeps looking its best for years and years.

CHOOSE IT IN 14 LOVELY COLORS, AT SAVINGS

Usually 14.95 Sq. Yd.

'Old Fashioned' Values For Teens A Good Idea

A code of ethics suggesting rules of behavior for teen-agers has been published by a parent-teacher group on the Tiburon Peninsula.

At first glance, rugged individualists among Marin's citizens may take offense at being told what their children are expected to wear, how they should behave, and what time they should come home.

Resentment would come from parents who feel that they are perfectly competent to discipline their own children, and that standards for the upbringing of their children should be set by each family and not ordained by a blanket code from without.

The code of ethics, entitled "The Peninsula Key," does, however, serve a useful purpose as a general guideline.

It is useful for those among the younger population who feel that youth should be free from parental control and allowed to follow the standards set by their own circle of teenage friends.

It is especially useful for parents whose normal inclination is to lay down the law for the good of their children but who are bewildered or cowed by the insistent cry from the younger generation: "Everybody else is doing it; why can't we?"

All too often, parents give in to the demands of their children against their better judgment, hoping that actions which appear distasteful to them are actually acceptable to society because of the frequency with which they occur.

To those who are wavering between the desire to impose their own better judgment and the reluctance to be stamped "old fashioned" or "square," The Peninsula Key serves as an answer.

The suggested rules of behavior, in black and white, are evidence that there are parents and teachers and youngsters who do care about morals, dress, and behavior.

At the outset, the Key stresses adult responsibility for setting examples by their own behavior, then outlining clear and consistent rules for youngsters to follow.

Parents should know where their children are at all times. If a teen-ager runs into a change of plans after leaving home, he should notify his parents as soon as possible. Youngsters should show courtesy and consideration for others, respect for property and laws. Chores and homework should NOT be neglected.

At home parties, parents should be present at all times. In parties away from home, arrangements should be checked with parents of the children giving the party.

Reasonable hours are suggested as the time when youngsters should be home at night.

These are just some samples. They are all common sense rules. We don't see a single one which would work undue hardship on youngsters or stunt their growth, physical or emotional.

Those who need no such guidelines can ignore them. But for those who sometimes wonder whether they are all alone in the "old fashioned" holdout for good taste and discipline, here is the answer.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

By JAMES KELLER

GIRL, 12, MASTERMINDS ROBBERIES

A ring of child burglars, who broke into a home in a New York suburb and stole money for thrills, was masterminded by a 12-year-old girl.

The youngsters, all from well-to-do homes and ranging in age from 12 to 15, were picked up by police in the midst of their thieving expeditions.

The girl leader, police said, plotted robberies like a professional. She telephoned residences to see if anyone was home before sending her accomplices into action.

All told, the children burglarized 21 homes, walking in through an unlocked door or by smashing a window to gain entry. They were responsible for about $500 worth of thefts and damage.

The tendency of young people to drift into mischief is often motivated more by a hankering to be "up and doing" than by a desire to be downright malicious.

Discover and harness the energy and enterprise that the good Lord entrusts to each young person and you will do a service to everyone.

(Psalm 24:5)

Instill in boys and girls, O divine Master, a determination to build up rather than to tear down.

Legislative Session Points To Need For Annual Meetings

By EDWIN S. CAPPS

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—The current session of the California Legislature could prove to be one of the biggest arguments yet in favor of annual, unlimited meetings of the lawmakers—and it won't be altogether accidental.

Under the Constitution, the Legislature must adjourn on midnight, June 18. But legislative leaders agree there is no chance of completing their labors by that time.

SO ADJOURNMENT will come on schedule on June 18 but then Gov. Edmund G. Brown will call the lawmakers back into special session, with no time limit. The whole pace of the legislative session this year has been based on the special session lasting through the summer and possibly into the fall.

In 1958, when the budget session of the Legislature failed to adopt a budget within the constitutional limits, because of a deadlock over water, then-Gov. Goodwin J. Knight called a special session. People were shocked and Knight was criticized for his lack of leadership.

BUT IN THE PAST four years, the same thing has happened under Brown and, while he received his share of criticism, it's beginning to be accepted as the general thing now. Most of the delays have been caused by debate over the governor's budget.

Assemblyman Jerome R. Waldie, D-Antioch, majority floor leader in the Assembly, said he didn't blame the Republicans for using their minority vote to block approval of the governor's budget until after negotiations.

"I don't agree with their charges about wild spending, but I do agree with their methods of dramatizing the rising costs of government," Waldie said. "If I were minority party leader, I certainly would use similar methods."

IT SEEMS LIKELY, therefore, that the 1965 legislative session would have been destined to go into overtime, even without the No. 1 problem this year, Senate reapportionment.

Under the constitutional limitations, tomorrow is the last day on which bills may be introduced freely — following that, it will take a three-fourths vote to permit a bill to be introduced. But many of the major bills of the session have just been introduced and many more were not to be put into the hopper until just under the deadline.

UNDER ANOTHER constitutional provision, bills may not be heard until 30 days after introduction. This means the major tax bills can't face their first committee tests until mid-May, or only a month or so before the scheduled adjournment.

Thus it appears there never was any intention to wind up the affair by June 18.

Logical Talk Urged About Marincello

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Why is it that when newspapers, or newspaper columnists, comment favorably on Marincello they are venal, ignorant, immoral and unethical?

I'm getting tired of the wild charges, and even wilder statements against Marincello. Why can't we talk about this plan and the future of Marin County factually and logically?

Shortcoming Claimed For Humane Society

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Your Easter editorial referring to the Humane Society's quest for "kindness and mercy" toward animals points up two recent experiences of mine which unfortunately do not bear out this creed . . .

. . . A young doe . . . got her leg caught in the wire. Her cries were agonizing . . . The Humane Society . . . voice said if the deer were on private property it was not their responsibility and . . . "By the time the man would get there the animal would be dead anyway and we don't pick up dead animals." . . .

Easter week a more poignant and frightening humane problem . . . involved a very special, obedience trained German shepherd of mine who has just been released from a . . . vet hospital, recovering from diabetes. . . . He went into insulin shock . . . and collapsed in a coma deep in some heavy bushes . . .

My first call, again, was to the Humane Society and since it was after 6 in the evening, I reached an answering service whose remote voice tolled: "We only pick up sick or injured stray animals, madame. . . ."

We are zealous about saving our trees, our bay, our shoreline . . . Yet there seems to be no assistance whatsoever for the unhappy animal who is trapped on private property!

I propose that there be some service, . . . an "Emergency Service" if you will, with an animal ambulance and a humane attendant. . . . Costs could doubtless be offset by individual charges per call or by membership for the service. I would gladly lend what support I could to such a project.

Africa Boycott Plan Sharply Questioned

Editor, Independent-Journal:

In your issue of April 19, the Allen-Scott report refers to CORE's leadership in "internationalizing" the Negro movement to include Africa, in particular, South Africa. The aim is to force boycott of South Africa by action against investors here in America.

Of principal note is that the two countries consulted by Negro and civil rights workers were Algeria and Ghana. . .

In case my friends here in Marin County may be moved to endorse this new movement, I should like to point out some very valid reasons why they should refuse to do so.

. . . Algeria has seen fit to declare "war" on Rhodesia, South Africa and Portuguese possessions . . . and is also strongly aligned to Cuba, Russia, and China.

Then there is Ghana . . . All leaders of the opposition have been put in prison, and the leader so ill-treated he died. Many others executed, and many still held under dreadful conditions. . .

Monies sent from the U.S.A. . . . was used for arms for the Pan-African movement, particularly against South Africa, and Tshombe in the Congo. . . .

If C.O.R.E. wants to join with these, and similar communist leaning African states . . . then I can only suggest they be fully investigated by that branch of Congress devoted to our security (and I don't mean the Un-American Activities Committee) — the Security Council.

Teen-Age Volunteers On Flood Area Tasks

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Since most headlines these days are devoted to the escapades of the educated misfits and publicity seekers of subnormal intelligence, I thought it might be refreshing and encouraging to John Q. Public to know that 250 high school teenagers and sponsors from all over the State (including many from Marin County) gave up their Easter vacations to do volunteer work of all types in Northern California where six rivers went on a rampage during the Christmas season.

'Savage Cell' Series Appreciation Voiced

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Congratulations to the I-J on presenting the inspiringly objective series on the mysterious cancer cell. It is the most thoughtful and factual treatment of the subject since Dr. F. B. Exner's (M.D.F.A.C.R., radiologist) article concerning problems in X-ray treatment, in the March 1965 National Mealth Federation magazine.

Your author has looked into every possible ramification of cancer, and we non-professionals appreciate hearing the whole story.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

JOHN STRALEY relays a disconcerting tale about a newly married couple who hit bumpy weather after only a few months of wedded bliss. The worried husband finally lugged his bride to the office of a psychiatrist. That worthy determined the root of the trouble. He seized the bride in his arms and gave her a series of very thorough and electrifying kisses. "There," he told the bridegroom, "that's the treatment she should receive every Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday." The young man looked dubious. "I can bring her here Tuesdays and Thursdays, all right," he announced finally, "BUT SATURDAYS I PLAY GOLF."

1. "By the way, I dropped in at Norma's for a cup of coffee this morning and you should see how Pete transformed their basement!"

2. "We're going to interrupt the auction for just a minute, folks. Seems somebody's parked his car outside right smackdab in front of the fire hydrant. The license number is . . ."

3. "That's the news and weather. Now to the closing stock market quotations . . ."

Private Business Should Begin On Job Of Re-Training Unskilled

WASHINGTON — The question I want to ask is this:

Is private business, including the great corporate industries of the nation, going to sit around just talking about how big government gets bigger and costlier — instead of doing something about it?

YOU CAN'T expect people not to turn to the federal government when they see no other place to turn. You can't expect the government not to try to meet great national needs when these needs are not being met otherwise.

I want to offer a concrete proposal by which private business can help people, can help itself and can help keep big government from getting bigger in an area in which private business is deeply concerned.

FIRST, the problem:

1. Most business and most American people have experienced high, mounting and unbroken prosperity for 51 consecutive months—gross national product up every year, average per capita wage up every year, profits after taxes up every year. And more of the same in prospect.

2. But despite high, sustained prosperity, there is high, sustained unemployment. Despite great economic growth, the hard core of unemployment has varied little more than a half percentage point in eight years. Prosperity is up month in and month out, year in and year out, but unemployment totals 3,740,000—and is rising again.

3. The prime cause of unemployment is not lack of job opportunities but lack of education, training and skill to take advantage of the opportunities. The least trained are the teen-agers seeking jobs. Unemployment among young people is three times as high as the national average.

SOME THINGS are being done about it, mostly by government. This is the main thrust of the war-on-poverty. This is the central objective of the Job Corps—to train young people out of poverty-ridden families to become employable, to acquire the skills to get the jobs where the jobs are to be had.

About 40,000 young people will be enrolled in the Job Corps training centers this year. But already more than 250,000 have volunteered and thousands more will apply in the coming months.

As automation proceeds, the government can't meet the mounting need for training and re-training—and should not be expected to.

AS THINGS are now going, it will be left to government and, in consequence, big government will get still bigger and still costlier.

Why shouldn't industry mobilize its vast resources in a collective effort of its own to train unemployable labor?

Why shouldn't private business, which already contributes millions of dollars to all kinds of foundations for all kinds of public purposes, create its own national foundation to operate vocational training schools in every part of the country?

WHY SHOULDN'T those who deeply believe that private enterprise can do the job best, set about to do the job which so urgently needs to be done?

Why shouldn't business act, not just talk, to make it unnecessary for big government to get bigger and costlier by making a major contribution to training and re-training for automated industry in an area crucial to industry itself?

The Labor Department recently disclosed that there are 71 job categories in which workers are needed in large supply but that in all but five of these categories either a high school education or special skilled training are a must.

WHY SHOULD industry leave this need to be met primarily by government?

INSIDE WASHINGTON

'News Czar' Praises One-Sided Coverage

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Assistant Defense Secretary Arthur (news management) Sylvester has again stuck his foot in his mouth—much to the embarrassment of some of his superiors.

The "news czar" of the Pentagon, who claims the government has the right to lie, shocked members of a House Armed Services Subcommittee with his "one voice" concept when he testified on plans to merge the military services' public affairs offices under his control.

UNDER QUESTIONING by Rep. F. Edward Hebert, D-La., chairman, Sylvester frankly stated he was "delighted" that only Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara's proposal for combining all Army reserve units with the National Guard was appearing in the Washington newspapers, which are read religiously by members of Congress.

He also vigorously contended McNamara does not need congressional approval to put into effect his controversial plan to centralize the public affairs offices of the services in one unit.

"I NEVER HAVE seen an instance where a department has tried its case so effectively in the newspapers—and this is a compliment to you," said Hebert without cracking a smile.

"I am afraid I don't deserve it," replied Sylvester.

"I haven't seen anything about these hearings in the local papers," stated Hebert. "You wouldn't know there has been any criticism of the plan."

"I am delighted," said Sylvester.

"YOU MAY HAVE to go back to a newspaper some day, the same as I might," reprimanded Hebert, a former crusading city editor. "I thought you might be interested in seeing both sides presented so that members of Congress and the public will have all the facts to make their judgment."

"They wouldn't take me back," replied Sylvester.

"WHAT AUTHORITY do you plan to use to accomplish this merger?" demanded Hebert.

"I would say, from observation so far, under the authority of the secretary of defense," answered Sylvester.

"Well, he considers himself omnipotent, so I suppose he believes he has the authority," cracked Hebert.

"I think Congress made him that," retorted Sylvester.

"I hope you have no success," said Sylvester disdainfully.

HEAVY PRESSURE by Britain has forced West Germany to abandon a plan to hold a meeting of the Federal Senate in West Berlin during the week of Queen Elizabeth's visit to the beleaguered city.

Earlier this month, the Communists blocked the land routes to Berlin in protest against a Bundestag session in that city.

Prime Minister Harold Wilson feared that a Senate meeting, arranged for April 30, would lead to another outburst of retaliation. He was concerned this could easily have rumbled into May and climaxed into a Communist demonstration during the queen's visit that same week.

Britain, which with France and the U. S. is responsible for West Berlin, made it clear to Bonn that she would veto the meeting. The U. S. joined in the request.

College Grads Remember Loan Fund, Donate For A New One

Souza was among the first teachers hired by the Marin Junior College District when it was organized, and he continued to teach at the college in Kentfield until his death in 1939.

HE WAS AN instructor in engineering and is remembered for encouraging several students to become successful engineers.

But he is perhaps better remembered for the "Manuel E. Souza Loan Fund," which he operated in an informal manner. The fund was kept in his wallet, or, in special cases, in his checkbook.

AT PRESENT, loans are available to students from the foundation, or from the federal government on a long-term basis in some cases. In any case, rules governing repayment and interest rates are fixed, to make sure no one receives a special benefit. But rules can be cruel.

Things were much less rigid with the Souza fund. Interest was a sometime thing. Repayments were not according to a precise schedule, but students, for the most part, were reliable, it seems.

Two students of the class of 1938 never forgot that loan fund. They were engineering students who went on to gain their degrees and found the Vidya Corp., organized to do contract research for the federal government.

EVENTUALLY, the company was merged with the Itek Corp., and the two men, Jackson R. Stalder and Jack N. Nielsen, became major holders of Itek stock.

Now they are in a position to do something about that defunct loan fund. Stalder and Nielsen have each donated 10 shares of Itek stock to the College of Marin Foundation. The stock is worth $61 a share, and orders are to sell it to form a new loan fund.

Actually, the foundation may receive still another $610. Stalder's wife works for the Philco Corp. If the Stalder stock is given in her name, Philco, by a company policy, is expected to match the gift to higher education.

THE MONEY will be used to establish the Manuel E. Souza Loan Fund, and like the original fund, the donors are insisting on flexibility in its use.

The money will be available to students during financial emergencies, whether related to schoolwork or not.

"It is our wish that interest payments on the loans be voluntary in the amount each recipient feels he can afford," the men said, adding that loans should be for short periods of time.

Only Thing Left About Baseball Is Mustard Flavor On Hot Dogs

NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping to conclusions:

Most shoplifters are lazy, selfish women. The articles they purloin are for themselves or items they can convert into cash. They rarely steal things for their children or to give to their boy friends.

Our myth-huggers cling to the tradition that baseball is still the national pastime. Actually, the game today probably bores more people than it pleases. The only thing about professional baseball that remains intact is the flavor of the mustard they put on the hog dogs.

NO MATTER how wide business prosperity spreads, eight out of 10 businessmen over 40 still keep a bottle of aspirin in their desks. Money makes headaches.

Guys who can blow smoke rings well rarely amount to much in life. The time they waste on learning such parlor tricks keeps them from climbing very far up the success ladder.

Fashion models never order anything so crass as corn on the cob in a restaurant. They feel it would destroy their image of dainty fastidiousness. But many of them are binge eaters, and in the privacy of their apartment cook meals for themselves that would fell a longshoreman or give insomnia to an anaconda.

Modern novels are so naughty nowadays that about the only place left where a fellow can still find decent fiction is on the tombstones of old-fashioned cemeteries.

THE EQUAL rights movement in America will never be a triumph until some comedian's mother-in-law is given a television program on which she can tell jokes about her dumb son-in-law.

It's a safe bet that any woman who describes something as "yummy" is at least 10 years older than she pretends to be. Even teen-agers dropped that word long ago.

You can't help feeling sorry for the husband who takes you into the kitchen to brag about the new automatic dishwasher his wife bought him for his birthday.

Reasons Are Sought For Family Slayings

By LARRY FRIEDMAN

NEW YORK (AP) — A prominent social scientist offered a possible explanation today for the outbreak of recent family slayings: Something snaps inside frustrated people in the spring.

"Spring always is a bad time for these things," Dr. Alfred McClung Lee said in an interview. "All life is reawakening in the spring, the roads are open and these people can't use them," he said. "Life is frustrating. It is a time of inadequacy for them.

"They have to lash out at someone and often they do it against those to whom they are most devoted."

Lee, 58, a professor of sociology and anthropology at Brooklyn College and author of many sociology textbooks, quoted a line from Thoreau on the subject: "Most men lead lives of quiet desperation."

But the sociologist stressed that his theory is only a general one and not meant to provide any answer for the slayings of entire families in recent days.

"Of course, it is difficult to understand the tensions that build up in some people in spring," Lee said. "We do know that something snaps inside. It often is resolved by either violence, desertion or divorce."

In New London, N.H., John Sargent, 32, a Korean War Marine veteran who now is unemployed, has been charged with first-degree murder for the slaying of his wife, Janet, 30. The couple's four children, ranging in age from 3 to 9, also were found shot to death yesterday.

In Vancouver, B.C., police yesterday found the bodies of Leonard Hogue, a Vancouver policeman, his wife and their six children in their suburban home in Coquitlam. "We are assuming the man shot the other members of the family and then committed suicide," a spokesman for the Royal Canadian Mounted Police said. The children were between 3 and 13 years old.

In Newark, N.J., the police director said last night an investigation was underway to determine whether Arthur Sherod, 37, had threatened to kill his family shortly before his car crashed into a truck, fatally injuring his wife and seven of their children Tuesday night .

Report On Police Slaying Of Motorist Is Released

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A previously withheld report on the slaying of a motorist by police — which was made public on orders of the City Council — states the slain man was killed after twice committing "a deliberate assault with a deadly weapon against police officers."

John S. Grudt, 55, a film studio carpenter who had no police record, was shot to death Feb. 24 after a police chase over Los Angeles streets.

The controversial report, relasted yesterday, said Grudt used his auto in two assaults: once attempting to force a police car off the road and then, after having been stopped, in striking two officers who were standing next to his car.

Tribute To King

VERSAILLES, Ky. (AP)—This town was named by Gen. Marquis Calmes for Versailles, France, as a tribute to Louis XVI for his timely aid during the Revolutionary War. The town was established in 1792.

Tia Juana (river in San Diego County and also town in Mexico) is Spanish for "Aunt Jane" but the authorities state that it is of Indian origin and to be spelled "Tijuana."

Today is Thursday, April 22, the 112th day of 1965 with 253 to follow.

The moon is approaching its last quarter. The morning star is Saturn. The evening stars are Mars and Jupiter.

Queen Isabelia of Spain, the benefactor of Columbus' voyage to the new world was born on this day in 1451.

On this day in history:

In 1944, Allied soldiers invaded New Guinea.

In 1964, President Johnson opened the New York World's Fair. The president's appearance was greeted by picketing and 294 civil rights demonstrators were arrested. The threatened massive stall-in on roads leading to the fair was not effective, however.

A thought for the day — President Theodore Roosevelt once said: "No man is justified in doing evil on the ground of expediency."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Being Almost Right Is Not Good Enough When Playing

Opening lead — ♠ Q

West opened the queen of spades, and East unblocked by playing the king. South refused the first two spade tricks but won the third and ran four clubs, getting a small heart from East and a small diamond from West.

FINESSE NEEDED

West won with the blank king and then took the rest of the tricks, collecting 200 points for a two-trick defeat.

SOME IRONY

"It's ironic," South remarked "that the right play cost me a trick. A bad player would take an early finesse and go down only one trick instead of two."

"Very ironic," North agreed. Since he was a good partner and a practical man, he didn't add that a good player would have made the contract.

South should win the second round of spades and run just three clubs, ending in dummy. Then he leads a spade, allowing West to take his trick.

TAKES SPADES

As West takes his spades, South can afford to discard two low diamonds from each hand. Now West must lead a red suit, and any lead gives declarer a free finesse.

South can reach dummy with the ace of hearts to take an eventual discard on the ace of clubs, but should not take this discard until West has been forced to yield the free finesse.

Incidentally, South's actual play would have worked if he had looked at West's hand and had seen the blank king of diamonds. We would all play better if we could see what the opponents are doing.

DAILY QUESTION

♥ A 7 3
♦ 9 7 4
♣ A K 7 2

What do you say?

ANSWER: Pass.

It goes against the grain to pass 3 Quick Tricks, but it is too difficult to open this hand and then show how light a bid you have. If partner passes after you have passed, you won't miss very much.

NOTICE REQUESTING BIDS
SANITARY DISTRICT NO. 2 OF MARIN COUNTY SEWER REPLACEMENT PROGRAM

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that Sanitary District No. 2 of Marin County will receive up to, but not later than, 2:00 o'clock P.M. of the 18th day of May, 1965, sealed bids for the award of a contract for the construction of improvements in the District in strict accordance with the plans and specifications therefor entitled "Sewer Replacement Program — Contract No 3", dated April, 1965, prepared by Brown and Caldwell, Consulting Engineers, and on file in the office of the Secretary of said District.

Said sealed proposals or bids shall be delivered to the Secretary of the Sanitary Board of said Sanitary District, 500 Tamalpais Drive, Corte Madera, California. Bids will be publicly opened, examined and declared on said day and hour by the Secretary who shall report to the Sanitary Board her findings, which findings shall be considered by said Sanitary Board at its meeting to be held at said place on May 18, 1965, at 7:30 o'clock P.M.

Each bid shall be in accordance with said plans, specifications and other contract documents now on file in the office of the District Secretary, located at 500 Tamalpais Drive, Corte Madera, California.

Said proposals or bids must be enclosed in a sealed envelope addressed "Sanitary District No. 2 of Marin County, 500 Tamalpais Drive, Corte Madera, California", and endorsed "Proposal for Sewer Replacement Program—Contract No. 3".

All proposals or bids shall be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check payable to the order of the District amounting to ten per cent (10%) of the bid, or by a bond in said amount and payable to said District, signed by the bidder and a corporate admitted surety or two individual sureties who shall justify before any officer competent to administer an oath, in double said amount, and over and above all statutory exemptions. Said check shall be forfeited or said bond shall become payable to said District in case the bidder depositing the same does not, within fifteen (15) days after written notice that the contract has been awarded to him, enter into a contract with the District, the faithful performance of which shall be secured by an undertaking in the amount of one hundred per cent (100%) of the amount so bid, with sureties satisfactory to the said Sanitary Board, and which shall be accompanied by a labor and material bond in a sum equal to one hundred per cent (100%) of the amount of said bid, under the provisions of Chapter 3, comprising Sections 4200 to 4208, inclusive, of the Government Code of the State of California.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that on April 6, 1965, the Sanitary Board adopted a resolution determining the general prevailing rate of per diem wages in the locality in which the public work herein provided is to be done for each craft or type of workman needed to execute the contract, a copy of which wage scale is contained in and made a part of the specifications for said work, to which reference is hereby made for a full and detailed description thereof.

The Board reserves the privilege of rejecting any and all bids or to waive any irregularities or informalities in any bid or in the bidding.

No bidder may withdraw his bid for a period of thirty (30) days after the date set for the opening of bids.

Plans and specifications may be examined at the office of the District, 500 Tamalpais Drive, Corte Madera, California, at the Builder's Exchange, 850 South Van Ness Avenue, San Francisco, at the Builder's Exchange, 321 East 12th Street, Oakland, and at the Dodge Plan Room, 1485 Bayshore Boulevard, San Francisco. Plans and specifications may be obtained at the office of Brown and Caldwell, 66 Mint Street, San Francisco, California, upon deposit of $10.00 per set, $5.00 of which will be refunded if the set or sets delivered are returned in good condition within fifteen (15) days after the bid opening.

Dated: April 6, 1965.

Bay Fill Control, Library Endorsed

The executive board of the Marin Democratic Assembly last night adopted resolutions (1) supporting the bill to control bay filling and (2) supporting the Clem Miller Memorial Library, which will be dedicated at the Civic Center on May 1.

The bay-fill bill is Sen. Eugene J. McAteer's S.B. 309, which would set up a Bay Area Conservation and Development Commission with powers to grant or withhold fill permits.

Clem Miller, of Corte Madera, was congressman from the First District until his death in an airplane crash on Oct. 7, 1962.

Old Novato Board Slates Meeting

A special meeting of the board of the old Novato Unified School District has been called for 7:45 p.m. Monday at the administration building by William Kirk, president.

The meeting is to request approval of the state Division of School House Planning for the lecture hall building at Novato High School, which was omitted from the second contract for the high school additions because of lack of funds. Funds have since been increased so the building is now possible, according to Kirk.

Dentist's Widow Will Be Honored Sunday

Mrs. Edythe Quigg of San Rafael, widow of Dr. G. Thomas Quigg, will accept honors of the California Dental Assn. when the association's 95th annual meeting opens Sunday in San Francisco.

The meeting will be dedicated to the memory of Dr. Quigg, who served as president of the association and as secretary of the California Board of Dental Examiners. He died Nov. 3, 1963 of botulism poisoning.

Unification Defect To Be Discussed

The Marin County Committee on School District Organization will discuss the second defeat of the Tamalpais Unification measure at its meeting at 8 p.m. next Wednesday in the curriculum laboratory of the county schools office at the Civic Center.

Also on the agenda is discussion of the State Board of Education's third turndown of the proposed Tomales unification.

WHERE IS THE COP?—There's a copper in every scene of " 'Ere Now, What You Doin'?" a revue written, produced and acted by teen-agers organized in the Green Room Theater—but he's never there when the crime's committed, as in this scene. Young Actor-Writers Start New Theater Group With Own Revue

By FRANK FARRARA

Two young actor-writers had an idea last summer that has evolved into an original comedy revue and the start of a new theater group.

After five months of writing, they came up with a revue entitled " 'Ere Now, What You Doin'?" which contains 17 skits and a five-minute movie.

"We wrote about 25 skits and threw out about seven," Norgaard said. "It has about 75 per cent humor and 25 per cent serious or tragic. We call this a comedy revue."

Norgaard said they wanted to write a revue that was imaginative and "throw out some of the conventions" of stage productions.

There is a theme that runs throughout the revue, "but it's hardly noticeable," Norgaard said. "The only tie-in is the cop I portray, who has the title line."

The cop is featured in the opening and closing skit, but "in every skit something happens; a law is broken or some degree or immorality, or something just not right, but he is never there or never catches anyone unless someone walks right up to him and confesses," Norgaard said.

The show, which went into rehearsal this month, will be presented in San Rafael High School auditorium June 23-24-25, with proceeds going to Marin Aid to Retarded Children.

Out of the idea also came formation of a company of players, about 25 high school and college students, known as the Green Room Players.

"The green room is the traditional place where actors wait to make their entrance, usually right offstage or as close as possible," young Norgaard explained.

Working on a low budget, the group has managed to wrangle costumes, seats and storage space but no rehearsal hall.

Norgaard emphasized that the production is a team effort, and that he isn't attempting to "dictate this whole thing."

One purpose of the group "is to prove that there are teenagers who have ambition who know what they are doing," he said.

The company has a seven-member board which represents experience in 300 shows and a total of 1,200 performances, he said.

They hope that after their fund-raising performances, someone will back the company in fututre production on a non-profit basis. But meantime, they have the problem of filming their short movie late next month.

"The guy filming it is still taking his course in photography," said young Norgaard." And we need a collie—a big, beautiful, fairly well-trained collie to run along the beach.

Driver Fined $220

Gladys Marie Kindall, 42, of 25 Broadmoor Avenue, San Anselmo, was fined $220 yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving. She was arrested on Sears Point Road by sheriff's officers April 12.

Thompson seedless grapes are small, mature early and, because of this, are the favorite fruit of young starlings.

LARKSPUR GIRL IN ICE SHOW

Christine Mardakis of Larkspur, with her sister, Paula Ann Mardakis, will be featured in "Around The World On Ice," a review scheduled for 5:45 p.m. Saturday and Sunday at Sutro's Ice Arena, San Francisco. Sponsored by the Skating Club of San Francisco, the show will aid the Bill and Laurie Hickok Memorial Fund.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

VAN DELLEN

There has been an alarming increase in emphysema in the United States in the past 10 years. It is estimated there are more than a million victims, and one authority predicts 60,000 deaths in 1965. The disease accounts for more social security disability payments to workers aged 50 tot 64 than any other condition except heart trouble.

Emphysema and bronchitis go together like ham and eggs. Both are caused by chronic irritation, repeated infections, and continuous injury from coughing. The air sacs dilate and the walls lose their elasticity. Air enters the enlarged sacs, and stagnates when it cannot escape. Shortness of breath, fatigue, and cough ensue. Every time the victim catches cold, the cough is accentuated and the bronchitis lingers for weeks or months.

A WELL-ESTABLISHED emphysema is difficult to treat because damage is irreversible. There is a 50 to 60 per cent loss of lung function. Some relief is obtained when the individual learns how to breathe in order to eliminate stagnant air from the lungs. Antibiotics lessen the infection and bronchodilators such as Mucomyst, Isuprel, and Vaponefrin open up the bronchi. These products are inhaled and may be combined with an enzyme to break up thickened secretions.

The lungs must be exercised and many use portable oxygen tanks while walking or working. Some are helped by a procedure in which the lungs are washed out to remove thick, tenacious sputum and mucal plugs. An operation is available in which a permanent opening is made just below the collar line into the windpipe. Suction catheters are inserted to keep the passageway clear.

THIS IS AN IRONICAL situation because emphysema is an avoidable tragedy. The present increase is thought to be caused by the large group of 65-year-old Americans who have smoked for 40 years. This concept is logical because the condition is rare in nonsmokers.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelpoe accompanies request.)

INDEFINITE DISTURBANCE

M. T. writes: What are the symptoms of nervous exhaustion?

REPLY

Jitteriness, inability to concentrate, irritability, insomnia, fatigue, headache, and palpitation of the heart. These symptoms are not specific, however, for this condition, because nervous exhaustion is a rather in definite disturbance. In fact, it is so vague a term that many physicians never write it without quotation marks.

KICKAPOO JUICE

M. V. writes: I suffer from burning under the skin. My doctor said it is nerves. The medication he gave me has not helped. A friend tells me kickapoo juice will help. My druggist does not know anything about kickapoo juice. Is it good, and where can I buy it?

REPLY

LENGTH OF LIFE

M. E. D. writes: Is longevity inherited?

REPLY

Today's Health Hint—Cocktails are sky high in calories.

Our children pioneers?

Take a thoughtful look into the future. This much is clear: Whether today's youngster moves out onto the frontiers of space or the ocean depths; whether he helps push to new horizons of medicine, law, farming or international relations, the future belongs to the fit. The future belongs to those vigorous enough to live it, and shape it!

Medical authorities put it this way: "It is a tragic waste to highly educate the minds of our children, and neglect the physical conditioning that can help them participate in the future to the full extent of their abilities."

The President's Council on Physical Fitness has developed programs that any school can initiate, regardless of limitations in facilities or budget. We're making progress. Yet even today, less than half our school children get the daily minimum of vigorous exercise they need for adequate physical development.

How about your schools? Are they providing for physical fitness as part of the sound education your children need to carve out their share of the future? You parents can help see that they do. Write: The President's Council on Physical Fitness, Washington, D.C., for information.

News Printers In LBJ's Office

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson, known for his hour-by-hour interest in late news dispatches, has moved his two press association printers into his White House office.

Reporters noticed the United Press International and Associated Press machines yesterday when they were invited into the oval office. The tickers are enclosed in white cabinets to keep their clatter from bothering the president.

In the past, Johnson has had news service copy brought to him regularly by aides. Now he can walk over and scan the news himself as it come in on the printers.

Baptist Seminary Choir Will Sing

The oratorio choir of Golden Gate Baptist seminary will sing "The Crucifixion" at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Broadus Chapel on the campus at Strawberry.

The concert will be directed by Carlyle Bennett, seminary music director. Soloists will be students Patricia Wilson, Paul Chang, Charles Higgins and John Nunn.

TV REVIEW

Negro To Costar In 'I 'Spy'

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—No network television series next season will be watched more closely by workers in the video medium than NBC-TV's "I Spy," in which a Negro performer is the costar.

Among the things the television industry will watch carefully from week to week are the ratings and the number of affiliated stations that do — or don't — give clearance to the series.

Some sources feel the immediate emotional impact of the desegregation struggle from day to day could well result in current events playing a part in the number of week-to-week clearances.

Advertisers, of course, are for the most part totally unconcerned with any side of any issue except as it affects their profits. They too will be watching carefully for the series' ups and downs.

In "I Spy," Robert Culp will costar with Negro comedian Bill Cosby as they portray American intelligence agents who roam the world posing as tennis bums. Their status is equal.

Boss of the series is Sheldon Leonard, who for a long time was one of Hollywood's most successful gangster-type actors, and in recent years has been very prominent as an executive in Danny Thomas' television production firm.

After a "go-easy" television season last year so far as civil rights pressure was concerned, the new stirrings are quite noticeable here in Hollywood.

Last week, for instance, the Writers Guild announced it has instituted a "Negro writers workshop." Some of Hollywood's top writers are on the workshop committee.

The announcement said "any Negro with a demonstrable interest in writing eligible to participate." The goal, is added, "is to teach all elements involved in television or screen writing, from the mechanics of writing and selection of story, to how to submit material to a producer."

Variety says the ABC-TV soap operas that would be affected include "General Hospital," "Flame in the Wind" and "The Young Marrieds."

THE CHANNEL SWIM: Bing Crosby will be host of eight of ABC-TV's "Hollywood Palace" shows next season, including one program costarring Louis Armstrong and a number of hours marking holidays—Thanksgiving, Christmas and the New Year among them... when CBS-TV's "Rawhide" returns in the fall, costar Clint Eastwood will be the new trail boss, with current head man Eric Fleming no longer in the cast.

The 984-25-foot Eiffel tower was officially opened at the Paris World's Fair, May 6 to Nov. 6, 1889.

Diplomatic Session

BONN (UPI) — A government spokesman said yesterday the West German cabinet would meet next Wednesday to discuss the date for establishing diplomatic relations with Israel.

Sausalito Theater To Stage Auditions

Auditions will be held Sunday from noon to 3 p.m. and Monday from 7 to 10 p.m. for actors for the summer melodrama to be produced by Sausalito Little Theater.

"Under the Gaslight," the annual summer fare, will start May 28 and close Sept. 4, according to Penny Vieregge, director. Olio tryouts will be set later.
